

Community canning center possible in Arlington Hts.

Mrs. C. A. Hughes, chairman of the food panel of Arlington Heights Ration Board, is assisting in the arrangements for a meeting to be held in the Arlington Heights Field House Monday evening, May 15, under the sponsorship Cook County Home Bureau and the War Foods Administration, for the purpose of organizing a local nutrition committee.

One of the goals of such a committee is the establishment of a community canning center in Arlington Heights, similar to the one that has been in operation two years in Barrington.

Mrs. Corbett, district community canning supervisor of the WFA for a number of counties in Northern Illinois, will address the meeting. She will explain how such a center can be set up in Arlington Heights. The attendance and interest displayed at the Monday meeting will be a factor in the establishment of such a center in Arlington Heights. Under the plan the housewife prepares in her own home the vegetables which are then taken to the center for canning under the most improved method. The federal government releases funds to aid the project.

The chief purpose of the nutrition program in Arlington Heights would be the education of the public. Proper nutrition safeguards the growing boy and girl, but there are a lot of school children in Arlington who are not getting the proper things to eat. Miss Sott and Miss Clark of the elementary schools will outline the results of their survey of the kind of breakfasts that the young people are eating before coming to school. Their report will open the eyes of many a parent.

A dentist will also address the meeting and Mrs. Cornelius, supervisor of the Home Bureau program in Cook County, and Mrs. Lund, community nurse, will also be present.

"This is a very important meeting," says Mrs. Hughes, "and should be of interest to men and women alike. It is an opportunity to insure better health for Arlington Heights people, adults as well as children. We need a large attendance."

There is no set program to be followed by a local nutrition committee. It is expected that the local committee will direct its activities along the lines that will get the greatest results in that particular community. Every community, regardless of size, says the WFA, wants to make the best possible use of the energy and idealism which youth can contribute to the war effort. Every community, regardless of size, must have some way of finding out whether or not its nutrition activities are sound and worth while.

Mrs. Hughes believes that there is a nutrition job in Arlington Heights that needs doing.

Arlington man dies while mowing lawn

Bernard A. Happ, 829 N. Dunton avenue, Arlington Heights, was found dead by neighbors on his lawn Tuesday morning. He had been mowing his lawn. The funeral will be held Friday morning at St. James church.

Heights ministers appear in 'Just Around the Corner'

Articles about Arlington Heights ministers are appearing in "Just Around the Corner." The April 27 issue carried one on the Rev. L. V. Stephan. On May 4 the Rev. William E. Kampfenkel was the subject of a short biography. Rev. H. C. McCoy is sketched this week.

County Board deaf to plea of milk producers

The farmers of Cook county have been trying to secure some aid from the county board to hire a county veterinarian to help combat Bangs disease among the dairy herds of the county.

The state has promised aid if the county will raise a certain amount but thus far the county board has turned a deaf ear to the pleas of the farmers.

After all the dairy industry in Cook county is one of the largest farm industries in this part of the state and the farmers of Cook county are heavy taxpayers.

Of course the county is broke and hasn't any money but they have been spending plenty all the while they have been broke and now that they are going to sock $6 million dollars more on to the next year's tax bill it looks like they ought to be able to find a few thousand for the farmers plan for a county veterinarian.

Cook county is reported to be the only county in the state that doesn't provide this protection for its farmers.

A local business man gives the suggestion that the county be broke and cannot find money for the farmers, perhaps it would not be a bad idea to fire some of the members of the sheriff's office, especially those who attempt to shake down local businessmen.

Scout executives met in Arlington Wednesday night

Regular meeting of the Executive Committee of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held as a dinner party at the Lutheran School on Wednesday evening, May 10.

The Northwest Suburban Council is composed of 14 communities in the Northwest Suburban area. Headquarters office for the council is in Park Ridge.

Local men who are members of the Executive Committee are A. G. Cudley, William Miles, William Forrest, Oscar Kurtz, M. W. Prellberg and R. E. Clabaugh.

About 25 attended the meeting.

Rural fire league makes first payment to Palatine village

In accordance with the provisions of the contract between the village of Palatine and the Palatine Fire Protection district, a check for $777 was recently turned over to the village, which covers the past indebtedness of the rural district.

Under the contract the rural district pays $20 a month rent for the storage of the rural truck in the municipal fire house. It also pays one-third of the cost of compensation insurance, also a third of the cost of the practice runs of the training work of the local department. The village department will answer all fire calls to farms within the fire protection district and regular firemen's fees for such service will be paid by the rural organization to the village.

Two county officers lose jobs for reported shake downs

John J. McGinnis, chief of the highway police of Cook County, this week investigated a report that two officers connected with the Morton Grove station had shaken down a Palatine undertaker for $10. "The two officers will lose their jobs," stated Chief McGinnis Wednesday when he called at the Herald office. He said he was glad that the incident had been reported to him as it is his purpose to keep his department clean. It has not been an easy job but he has made an effort to have the county police give an honest service to the public.

Junior prom next Saturday

Junior class of Arlington Heights high school has set Saturday, May 20, as the date for the annual Junior Prom. Both students and alumni are invited to attend the dance in the high school gym, with the music scheduled to start at 9 p. m.

Music will be furnished by Don Johns' orchestra. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

20 YEARS ON THE JOB

Fritz Parubchansky, who has worked about twenty years for the Creamery Package Company, has just completed a well earned vacation and is back on the job. Fritz, prior to working at his present location, traveled all over the Western States. He is a real mechanic and well liked by everyone, and he is a regular purchaser of National Defense Bonds.

Dad's club to have sports writers at meeting

The Dad's Club considers itself fortunate to be able to bring Leo Fischer to Arlington Heights Tuesday, May 16, at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Fischer is sports editor of the Chicago Herald-American and is a leading figure in his field. He is director of a national radio broadcast on sports, president of the Professional Basketball League and founder of the world's championship basketball series that is held each year in the Chicago Stadium. He is founder of the famous Quarterback Club which meets at the Morrison Hotel every Monday during the football season.

The Dad's Club is indebted to Tommy Kouzmanoff for the appearance of Mr. Fischer. Tommy is "Prep Editor" of the Chicago Herald-American and resides in Arlington Heights.

The program committee plans to have Mr. Fischer interview a major league baseball player as a high light of the evening.

This program is for everyone in the community—next Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. Admission is free. The place: Arlington Heights Township High School.

Rural schools have many graduates

One hundred and twenty-two 8th grade boys and girls will receive diplomas at the graduation exercises which will be held on the following dates and in the following places.

Wheeling-Elk Grove Townships, Wednesday evening, May 17, at the Arlington Heights High School auditorium.

Palatine Township at Cutting Hall, Friday evening, May 19.

Hanover Township at the school auditorium, Bartlett, Thursday evening, June 1.

Mt. Prospect at the high school auditorium, Arlington Heights, Monday evening, June 5.

Barrington Township at the high school auditorium, Barrington, Wednesday evening, June 7.

An interesting program will be presented by the graduates at each exercise. In addition to the program by the class, an excellent speaker has been secured. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Payne moves Chicago office to Arlington

Dr. Eugene Payne, who recently acquired the dentist office of the late Dr. E. H. Savage, is so well pleased with Arlington Heights and its citizens that he has closed his Chicago office, moved his equipment to Arlington and will maintain office hours here exclusively.

Seidler to head recreation program

The park board has employed Arnold H. Seidler, high school athletic director, as recreational director for the summer of 1944.

The board has carried on a similar recreational program for the last three summers, but due to the lack of finances had never been able to provide a well managed and complete activity. They decided at a recent meeting that a recreational director and program must be arranged and accordingly appropriated the necessary funds for that purpose. Arnold Seidler stood out amongst other men interviewed and the board considers everyone interested is fortunate to obtain him for this position.

Mr. Seidler has had an intensive education and experience in recreational work. He attended University of Illinois where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and majored in recreation. His experience as waterfront director at Camp Cutter and Camp Kilbourn, captain of life guards and swimming instructor for Chicago Parks District; swimming instructor, University of Illinois; instructor in warfare aquatics at U. of I.; pool manager, Crystal Lake Park, Urbana, Ill.; Asst. Director of recreation, Urbana; Athletic instructor, U. S. Army; and athletic director at the high school certainly fit him well for his new assignment.

Mr. Seidler plans to commence his program June 16 and will have a regular schedule through the summer months until Sept. 1. There will be morning events each week day for both boys and girls in various age groups. It is also planned to have free swimming lessons each week.

Mr. Seidler will also have charge of the pool life guards for the summer. A complete plan is being worked up and will be announced later.

The board hopes to carry on a recreational program through the winter months. The local civic organizations have agreed to join in a big Fourth of July celebration and contribute a substantial part of the net income to the park to make a winter months program possible.

Breaks ankle in car collision

Mrs. Herman Bauman is nursing a broken ankle as the result of an auto accident at the intersection of Dunton and Fairview Friday evening. She and her daughter, Nancy, were riding in the car of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winkelman, which collided with a car being driven by Mrs. Herman Hildebrandt. None of the others were seriously injured.

James Cavanaugh, 8, escaped with bruises Monday afternoon when he was hit by a car at the intersection of Dunton and Campbell streets.

Foreclosure brings cash to Palatine taxing bodies

Palatine taxing bodies received checks this week from the county treasurer for the first payment received in fifteen years on taxes assessed against Palanois subdivision of that town. The village's share was approximately $1,500, the township $1,000, the high school township $1,000, the school district $1,566. In a short time similar checks covering taxes for the year 1943 will be forthcoming. Palanois is the subdivision territory east and north of Northwest highway on both sides of Palatine road, originally subdivided by Merrill.

This is the first result of placing the property in question back on the tax books. Foreclosure proceedings on this property were instituted in behalf of a group of holders of special assessment bonds and the state's attorney in behalf of the county treasurer.

While the sale bid only net the bond holders a small part of their claims, the taxing bodies are the ones who benefit today and will continue to receive a larger per cent of their taxes.

Foreclosure on a second Palatine tract, called Palatine Road Development, resulted in the sale on May 2 of an area on the east side of Plum Grove road in the south end of the village.

Foreclosure on the original tract was not completed without considerable litigation, a bonding house carrying the case to a high court. Owners of many of the lots that were included in the sale are utilizing their privilege of redeeming their property clear of all back taxes, at the price of the sale, plus an interest charge.

It is understood that while the McIntosh organization is one of the principals in the foreclosure, a home building organization is also in the picture and expects to be able to start the building of homes as soon as materials are available.

The original building restriction on the Palanois property was in the neighborhood of $5,000 which ten years ago would have erected a house that today would cost about $8,000. No announcement has yet been made as to the quality of homes that will be erected. The tract has gas, electricity and sewer, water and sidewalk.

There is also some good news to holders of the special bonds issued for improvements on the Palanois tract. Margaret Godknecht, village treasurer, has been assured that she will soon receive a check for $16,196, even cent of which will be paid to the bondholders. This will be a small payment to each individual bond but it is a lot better than no payment at all.

Announce five more Arlington realty transfers

The following five realty transactions were handled by Harold Willson and associate representing the buyers and Plentie & Behrens representing the sellers.

Mrs. Mary Metler of Chicago has purchased the brick residence on the northeast corner of Eastman and Haddow (303 Haddow), Arlington Heights, from the Blume Estate. She will move in shortly. The former occupants, Arthur J. Boelter and his mother, are moving to Edison Park, Chicago.

The Bernard Radfords of W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, are already in their new home at 234 S. Mitchell st. This property was formerly owned by William A. Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Erich Jung of Algonquin road have purchased the six-room home at 710 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, from Herman Moehling. The Jung house has been sold to S. DiMatteo of Chicago. They both expect to move June 1.

The four-acre plot between Euclid and C. & N. W., formerly occupied by the Meyer Dairy, has been sold to Frank Regilio of Chicago and the Regillos have already moved in.

Senior play this Saturday

The Senior play, which is being presented Saturday night, May 13, at the Arlington Heights High School auditorium, is Helen Jerome's adaptation of "Pride and Prejudice."

The play concentrates on Mrs. Bennett's determination to get her three daughters, Jane, Lydia and Elizabeth, married. During the Victorian period, when the play takes place, a woman's only possible career was matrimony. Jane and Lydia satisfy their mother's desire, but not Elizabeth!

"Pride and Prejudice" reveals the duel between Elizabeth and her pride and Darcy and his prejudice. Before the evening is over, pride and prejudice meet halfway.

Des Plaines pioneer business man dies suddenly

Barney Lagerhausen, father of Walter and George Lagerhausen engaged in the lumber and coal business in Des Plaines many years, died suddenly Wednesday morning. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at the W. C. Oehler chapel, Des Plaines; interment, Town of Maine cemetery; Rev. Goebel officiating.

Mr. Lagerhausen was born in Effingham county in the southern part of the state but had been a resident of Des Plaines 62 years. In addition to his wife and two sons, there remains a daughter, Mrs. Edith Wolff, Des Plaines.

Increase Palatine hospital to 30 beds

Quarters formerly occupied by Dr. Smith on the first floor of the Palatine hospital building are being remodeled to provide space for seven more beds, which will give the hospital a total of thirty beds and an accommodation that is very urgently needed.

Summer round-up opens next week

On Tuesday, May 16 at 9 a. m. the annual Arlington Heights summer round-up for children here who will be in kindergarten or first grade for the first time this fall begins with St. Peter Lutheran School round-up. On Thursday, May 18 at 9:30 a. m. St. James Catholic School children will be examined. The public school round-up will begin at 9 a. m. on Saturday, May 20.

The round-ups are planned to include the checking on disease history of each child and the examination of children who have not previously been examined by family doctors. They are held in May so that parents of pre-school children will have adequate time during the summer months for preventive and repair health and dental measures.

To enter an Arlington Heights kindergarten a child must be five by the first of December. This has been ruled to mean that any child born on or before December second is eligible to enter kindergarten.

First grade children must be six on or before February first this year, but by next year the age requirement will be backed up to correspond with the kindergarten one.

It is hoped that parents will have children checked by their own doctors in order to diminish the load of doctors and dentists at the schools.

Chairmen for the round-ups are asking that parents bring their children promptly at the opening hours in order to conserve the time of the examiners.

Red Cross parly postponed

The Red Cross Anniversary party scheduled for Thursday, May 11 has been indefinitely postponed because of the closing of the Field House until a successor for James McElhose, caretaker who recently resigned, is found.

Arlington churches to honor mothers Sunday

On Sunday, May 14, Mother's Day, churches in Arlington Heights have arranged special programs.

The Presbyterian church wants Sunday to be a family union at the church in honor of mothers. Rev. H. C. McCoy's sermon will be based on "The Story of a Church Pew" from the Christian Herald. Both the junior and adult choirs will sing. The Men's class is to have as its guest speaker, Dr. Samuel Kincheloe, professor of sociology of religion at Chicago Theological Seminary. The Women's Class and the older young people's classes are invited to hear his talk on "How To Make a Happy Integrated Home."

The St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will have a combined church school and morning worship at ten o'clock. The Junior choir will sing and the Sunday school children will have a part in the services. Rev. William F. Kampfenkel's message will be for mothers.

The emphasis at the St. Peter Lutheran church on Mothers' Day will be on mothering boys in the service. The altar will be decorated with flowers in honor of both departed mothers and living ones of the congregation. Lutherans here will take part in the one half million dollar collection for boys in the service to which the Lutheran church has contributed on each Mothers' Day. The Rev. L. V. Stephan will address the mothers.

An exceptionally loyal and devoted mother will be honored at the service in the Methodist Meeting House, and all mothers present will be given tokens of appreciation. The music and Reverend Milo Vondracek's message will take note of the day. The Youth Fellowship plans a tea and a special speaker, Mrs. I. D. Allison, for Mother's Day.

The entire month of May is one of worship of the Blessed Virgin for the St. James Catholic Church and there are Mothers' services each day at 2:30. The children of the congregation will have their first communion Sunday.

This year church services honoring mothers take on a deeper significance and are planned to bring comfort and inspiration to mothers in need of spiritual aid. The ministers of Arlington Heights unite in their hope that families in Arlington Heights will accept the help offered at each church here.

1944 July 4th event to be Arlington Heights 'greatest'

Park superintendent is greatly needed

The use of the Arlington Heights field house will be greatly curtailed unless the park board can get in touch with a man who desires to assume the job of superintendent. There is excellent pay and not a difficult job. The park board will be glad to discuss details with any person who is interested.

Introducing the community council

The Herald introduces to the people of Arlington Heights this week the members of the Community Council, the men and women who will supply the power for the coming Fourth of July celebration. Their names and the organization they represent are:

Albert W. Goedke, mayor.
Mrs. O. Baldwin, Woman's club.
Mrs. Paul E. Collins, Parent-Teacher association.
A. G. Cudley, Boy scouts.
C. I. Davis, high school board.

Tax rates out;

Tax rates for the country towns were announced late last week by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn.

The rates are based upon the new full valuation put into effect this year by Assessor John S. Clark.

The rates are low as compared with other years but it must be remembered that they are on a full valuation instead of a 37 per cent valuation as previously.

Whether the tax bills of a community are higher or lower than last year will depend entirely upon whether or not the various taxing bodies left their levies as they were.

This is also the first year of a new quadrennial assessment, the assessors a year ago having established valuations for the next four years.

As a rule the valuations of property were not changed much, in many cases they were reduced.

April paper salvage netted 19 tons

The Arlington Heights salvage committee, comprising Frank Havranek, Orval Cline and Kenneth Gregory, reported this week that the April 22 collection of old newspapers and magazines in Arlington Heights netted over 19 tons. The returns were divided fifty-fifty between the Boy Scouts organization and the O.C.D. general fund, out of which is paid rental of the ration office and other costs of similar nature, the bulk of existing O.C.D. funds having been earmarked for a permanent war memorial.

Mr. Gregory says, "the present salvage setup is ideal if it will continue to have the cooperation of the public. The next newspaper collection will be June 3, rain or shine. Scout Troop No. 32 had charge of the April collection. Troop 37 is responsible for the June effort."

The Cubs are assisting with distribution of handbills. Those who cannot wait until June to get rid of their old newspapers can leave them at the salvage depot which has been established at the Jewel Oil Station, 506 E. Northwest highway. Those who have no means to transport them there can call Frank Havranek, Orval Cline or Kenneth Gregory.

Half of the funds from the sale of the salvage goes for the promotion of scouting and cubbing in Arlington Heights, which benefits over a hundred local boys.

Navy officer rents Arlington home for summer

Lt. Alexander, public relations officer of the Glenview Naval Station, has rented for the summer the home of W. L. Jacobus, 112 Derbyshire Lane, Stonegate. He says that there are other officers in Glenview who also like the appearance of Arlington Heights. Word from any home owner who is thinking about taking a vacation for the summer and has a house that will be available for a similar purpose will be most welcome, says Lt. Alexander.

Proceeds for recreation and war memorial

All civic groups represented on general committee

With all civic organizations in Arlington Heights represented in the general committee the 1944 July 4th celebration promises to be the greatest in the history of the community. E. H. Malzahn is general chairman and A. H. Franzen, co-chairman. Twenty-five civic organizations or groups have personal representation on the general committee, which held its first general meeting last night, to whom a general report of progress to date was presented by the "early birds"—those members of the individual celebration committees who have already gotten busy on their jobs.

No announcement of the concrete program of the day can be made sixty days in advance but the enthusiasm displayed Wednesday night is proof that this year's celebration will "go places."

The net proceeds, as previously announced, will be divided between a comprehensive recreation program for the town and the war memorial. The park board, under whose direction the recreational program will be handled, is not waiting to see if the celebration is a success before outlining this summer's events. An accompanying story tells their plans.

Attending school conference

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights public schools, is attending a meeting of the Supervisors Conference of the Northern Illinois State Teachers College at DeKalb Friday, May 13. This is a meeting for superintendents, supervisors, etc., in northern Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Angelloff have moved to upper apartment 12 S. Dunton avenue from 7 W. Campbell street.

From babyland

Three Arlington Heights babies, all girls, arrived the past week at the maternity department of the Palatine Community hospital. They were born to—
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kuhn, May 3.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, May 2.
Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Weidner of Dundee road.
Other Arlington Heights people who are undergoing treatment or operations at the hospital are: Albert Juhnke, operation; Herman Clausen, critically ill; Richard Hupp, appendicitis, and his sister, Anna Marie, tonsils.
Mrs. Elizabeth Mackey, of Chicago, has undergone a serious major operation.
Lucille Toppel, of Palatine, had her tonsils removed.

May 1st in St. Francis hospital a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saventhal of S. State road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schmidt of W. Campbell street have a new daughter, born May 2, in Palatine hospital. She is named Sally Marie.

The Youths' Convention will be held soon, so the Cubs are practicing on their marching. Arlington Heights Cubs have won at this convention in marching the past three years. We don't want to spoil this record so all Cubs are urged to be at the North School grounds Saturday at 3 p. m. Fathers and Den Dads are urged to be there to help in the drilling. It isn't necessary for the Cubs to be in uniform so stop playing long enough to drill for this big event.

How are the kites coming along? Don't forget, a week from this Friday is Pack meeting and you will want to have your kite there on exhibit.
No one could ever accuse Ben Cochran's Den No. 5 of being superstitious. Bradford Godfrey is the 13th member and he is proud of it. In fact, this den has had eight new members recently so it really is fortunate that they meet at the Presbyterian church where there is plenty of room. The boys are really interested in attending the den meetings because ten boys have not missed one unexcused meeting in three months. That is quite a good record and Mr. Cochran is to be complimented on making the meetings so interesting.

It won't be long until school is out, then vacations and baseball will be upmost in the boys' minds. Den No. 5 is no exception, so Ralph Allen, Ronald Diekmann, John Freeman, Ernest Heide and John Leark are hurrying to finish their Bear rank before the meetings close for the summer. Some of the boys of this den are working on their kites and promise to have real good ones ready for the Pack meeting.

Mrs. George W. Pope, mother of Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy of 511 S. Pine, has just returned from a trip to California and Texas. She spent two months in Los Angeles with her niece, Mrs. Theodore Lawrence and two months with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Gresham, in Texas.

OBITUARIES

John Domek

John Domek, 64 road, Palatine township, was stricken with a heart attack Saturday morning and died within a few moments. He had just told his wife that because he was not feeling well he thought he would postpone the moving to the home he had purchased in Palatine.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at St. Teckla's church, Chicago, with interment in St. Adalbert's cemetery. He leaves his wife, a daughter, Mrs. James Luerssen, two sons, Daniel and John J., who is in the Air Corps, and four grandchildren.

Deceased was born Nov. 11, 1886, in Poland. He was brought to Chicago when two years old, where he resided until fifteen years ago when he moved to Palatine. He married Miss Martha Klossowski in July, 1912. Mr. Domek was a painter by trade and for the last few years had been a contractor in that line of work.

Caroline Tank

Caroline Tank, nee Fisher, was born March 24, 1873, at Long Grove, Illinois, received her education and was confirmed at the Fairfield Lutheran church. September 30, 1893 she was united in marriage to William Tank at Chicago. The greater part of their marriage was spent in Lake Zurich, until May 24, 1927 when Mr. Tank passed away. Mrs. Tank has made her home with her niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krueger, for the past 16 years.

Mrs. Tank passed away Thursday evening, May 4, at the Palatine hospital at the age of 71 years 1 month and 10 days. She leaves to mourn her departure, 2 brothers, Fred Fisher of Hampton, Iowa, Henry Fisher of Clarksville, Iowa; two sisters in law and two brothers in law.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, May 7, at the Lake Zurich Evangelical church at Lake Zurich. Interment Lake Zurich cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Lydia E. Wick, who passed away seven years ago, May 9, 1937.

What would we give to clasp her hand,
To hear her voice and see her smile
That meant so much to us.
John J. Wick and Children.

Franklin Park police present vaudeville show

The Franklin Park Police Association is sponsoring its annual Vaudeville Show May 20 and 21 at the Leyden High School Auditorium, Franklin Park. This is a mammoth $1,000 show starring stage and radio stars with both matinee and evening performances. The program planned is bigger and better than before and the prices of admission will not be raised.

Tickets for this gala affair may be obtained from any member of the Association, police officers, or at the door. There will be a matinee performance at 2:30 p. m. and evening performance at 8:15 p. m. Admission will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children.

Lions club dance at Mt. Prospect Saturday night

The annual May Dance sponsored by the Mount Prospect Lions Club will again be held at Busse's Garage on next Saturday, May 13. These dances at the garage have been becoming more popular each year. The attendance at the last dance was over 400.

The music will be by Wally Hahnfeldt, and will consist of both modern and old time music, so don't let age hold you back. There will be square dances, waltzes, broom dance, etc., as well as the rumba and latest steps. Oh, yes, and jitterbugging, too.

The music will start at 9 p. m. and last until 12-five hours of fun, for one and all. Let's go.

Bernard A. Happ

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 Friday morning in St. James church, Arlington Heights, for Bernard A. Happ, 828 N. Dunton, who died suddenly Tuesday morning. The remains are resting at his late home.

Deceased was born in Northfield township Aug. 22, 1869. He married Miss Anna Selzer in April, 1901. Their only son, William, died last December. Mr. Happ was a farmer and a resident of Northfield township 56 years. In 1926 he moved to the Brehm farm in Buffalo Grove. Eleven years later, seven years ago, he retired to a home he purchased in Arlington Heights. He was supposedly in excellent health, but while mowing his lawn Tuesday morning suffered a stroke, dying instantly. His wife was not home at the time, neighbors finding his lifeless body on the lawn.

Besides his wife, deceased leaves a daughter-in-law, two grandchildren and a brother, John P. Happ of Northfield.

Interment will be in Buffalo Grove cemetery. Lauterburg & Oehler were in charge.

Mrs. Anna Johnson

Mrs. Anna Caroline Johnson was born in Chicago June 7, 1884, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Karth. She came to Wheeling about thirty years ago, when she became the wife of Frank C. Johnson, who was then telegraph operator for the Soo Line.

Patient and of a retiring disposition, devoted to her family and loyal to her friends, Mrs. Johnson was loved and respected by all who knew her. After being in poor health for several years she passed away suddenly but quietly on Friday morning, May 6, at the age of 59 years and 11 months.

Those who mourn her passing are her husband, Frank C. Johnson; two daughters, Mildred and Marcella; one son, Rollin; a daughter-in-law, one grandson and a sister, Mrs. Fred W. Wolf, besides other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Monday in the Wheeling Presbyterian church, the Rev. Harold Quigley officiating, and interment made in Ridgewood cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

Mrs. Margaret Bleile and Children.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the kindness of neighbors and friends in Palatine and Chicago and for the many expressions of sympathy received in our recent bereavement.

Albert H. Schmidt and Family.

St. Peter Mothers club to meet

The regular meeting of the Mothers Club of St. Peter Lutheran School will be held this week, Friday, at 8 p. m. The members are asked to bring their Gloom and Sunshine boxes to this meeting.

The annual spring round-up will take place on May 16, promptly at 9 o'clock, in the school annex. Dr. Leckband and Dr. Dunn will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Lund, community nurse, and a committee from the Mothers Club. A certificate from the family doctor and dentist will excuse the child from this examination. Any child examined last year for kindergarten need not be examined again this year before entering the first grade.

John Carpenter and family moved from Des Plaines to 368 So. Mitchell ave., Arlington Heights, May 7. Mr. Carpenter is employed by Wolf Coal Company.

Used gas stoves have ceilings

Do you know that if you are about to sell or buy a used domestic gas range, the selling price has been predetermined by OPA? Also, that the figured price controls the transaction whether it is made by a dealer or by one householder to another?

In a statement yesterday, the local War Price and Ration Board announced that all sales of used domestic gas ranges are covered by OPA Maximum Price Regulation No. 527 which became effective last April 19. Prices listed are for all types of stoves, including cookers, consoles, cabinets, table tops and bungalow ranges with either coal and wood or oil burning units alongside the gas cooking unit.

There is no need for anyone paying more than the ceiling price for any type of gas range, say local authorities. "Complete information on how much a specific type of stove can be sold for is available at the ration board's headquarters. Established prices cover reconditioned or 'as is' stoves and all accessories. Installation charges are also controlled. Selling prices include delivery costs."

Under the regulation, the seller of a reconditioned stove must furnish the buyer with a 90-day guarantee.

Many boards are experiencing difficulty with motorists who have misunderstood the announcement making B ration holders as well as C holders eligible for Grade I tires and A holders eligible for Grade III tires. This doesn't mean that a motorist simply has to go to a board and receive a certificate for a tire. He must show absolute need for a tire, as in the past (that's why tire inspection records must be saved although periodic inspections have been discontinued for all except truck tires), before a board can grant him a certificate.

Headache powders cause death of Schaumburg woman

Mrs. Irma Fisher, who made her home on the O. D. Jennings farms in the western part of Schaumburg township, was found dead in bed Sunday morning apparently from an overdose of headache powders. Funeral services were held in Elgin Tuesday with interment in Bluff City.

Mrs. Fisher, 53, was secretary in the law office of Everett Jennings and when he retired accompanied him to the home of his cousin, O. D. Jennings, from which place she made daily trips to Chicago, where she was employed by Mr. Jennings' former law firm.

Hospital day is May twelfth

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

The average stay of a patient in a hospital has been reduced from fourteen to less than twelve days. This reduction in time occurred within the years since 1935, and is an ever increasing reduction.

This fact bespeaks the increasing efficiency of hospitals and is worth recognizing this year when Hospital Day returns on May 12. It means also reduced cost to the patient.

Hospitals have become really palaces of healing. Shiningly clean, extraordinarily efficient, miracles of order, the very atmosphere of comfort and often of beauty is a contributing factor to rapid recovery.

Remember your hospitals May 12; remember with appreciation the fine hospital buildings, skilled staffs and fine equipment now available to the ailing.

Sunday, May 14
9:45 a. m. The Sunday church school meets for an hour of religious instruction. When the values are being shaken down and youth knows not where to turn it is highly important that we give them a sure foundation. Teach them to be at home in the Universe because they are the children of God. Mr. M. W. Prellberg is superintendent. Mr. A. Ashcraft is secretary. We also have a class for the parents. This Sunday the school honors Mother with a special program.
11 a. m. The morning hour of worship will lend itself to the glorification of the Christian home. When the home goes all is lost. Honor your Mother by being present at this service. Tokens will be distributed to honor Mothers. The choir will have some appropriate music.
7 p. m. The Youth Fellowship will honor Mothers with a tea and a meeting devoted to paying their respects. A special speaker has been secured for this meeting. High school youth bring your mother.

Thursday 8 p. m. The choir will meet in preparation to bring to a close the year's work and to plan for the summer's work. Please be present and on time.

Robert Herzog and Evelyn Berschet wed

Miss Evelyn Berschet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berschet of Elk Grove township, became the bride of Robert Herzog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Herzog, 954 Walter avenue, Des Plaines, Friday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran church, Des. Plaines. Rev. Wendt officiated. The bride was given away by her father, Walter Berschet. She was attired in a white satin gown with long veil and train and carried calla lilies.

The bride was attended by Miss Alvira Herzog, maid of honor, who was dressed in pink chiffon and carried pink roses. Other attendants were Miss Vera Boslo, Norwood Park, Miss Amanda Herzog and Mrs. Ruth Willert as bridesmaids, who were all dressed in blue chiffon and carried red roses.

Mr. Herzog was attended by Raymond Gatch as best man. Ushers were Clifford Friedle, Arthur Willert and Marvin Berschet.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at Sobie's on Rand road to a family group of 75. Later in the evening a reception attended by nearly 400 people was held in Rand Park fieldhouse, Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Herzog are residing with the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Berschet, State road, Arlington Heights.

SEAFOOD MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 cup minced celery	1 tsp. salt	1 cup raw oysters, or cleaned, cooked, fresh or canned shrimp
4/4 cups boiling water	1/2 tsp. pepper
1 cup macaroni, broken into 1-inch pieces	1 tsp. flour
3 tbsps. fat or salad oil	1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbsps. prepared mustard	1 cup milk
	1/4 cup minced parsley

Cook celery, covered, in 1/4 cup boiling water, for 10 min. Meanwhile, cook macaroni in 1 qt. (4 cups) boiling water, until tender. Drain, and arrange in a 1-qt. casserole. Next stir the fat, mustard, salt, pepper, flour, and Worcestershire into the undrained celery. Mix well. Add milk, and heat to boiling, continuing to stir. Then add oysters or shrimp, and parsley. Pour over the macaroni. Top with cheese. Bake in a hot oven of 425° F. for 20 min. If not sufficiently browned when removed from oven, put under broiler until golden-brown. Serves 4. It's nice with buttered broccoli, raw carrot sticks, heated rolls, lemon chiffon pie, and coffee, for dinner.

CREAMED PORK IN SWEET POTATO NESTS

4 medium sweet potatoes	1 cup pork stock	1/2 tsp. thyme
2 tbsps. melted fat or salad oil	3 tbsps. flour	2 cups cooked diced pork
Salt, pepper	1/2 cup milk

Scrub potatoes. Cover with boiling salted water. Cover; boil 20-25 minutes, or until tender. Drain; peel. Press through ricer. Add fat or salad oil; season with salt and pepper. Using rose tip, put through pastry tube, forming 4-inch circle in individual bakeproof dishes. Brown under broiler unit or burner. Keep hot. Mix 1/4 cup stock and flour to smooth paste; add remaining stock, milk and thyme. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; add pork. Season with salt and pepper. Heat. Serve in potato nests. Serves 4.

Enjoy the Convenience of a Modern Range in Your Post-War Kitchen

Close your eyes and dwell a moment on your post-war dream kitchen. See it in all its splendor... newly decorated... new curtains... new refrigerator... new range.

Yes, a Modern Range streamlined, enduring, easy-to-clean. Modern, efficient surface units for extra speed in cooking... accurate temperature control to take guesswork out of meal making.

What a joy that post-war range will be with all its modern features: Top flood lighting—automatic oven light—automatic oven control—easy-to-use broiler—utility drawer and a host of other conveniences.

While that dream is still fresh in mind, make a note now that the first step to a modern post-war kitchen will be a Modern Range.

Just Around the Corner

(This is the third in a series of short sketches of Arlington Heights ministers)

In the northwest corner of Arkansas lie some of the beautiful low green mountains and high blue hills of the Ozarks. They have none of the remoteness or the forbidding austerity of the Rockies nor the haughty crags of the Appalachians. Their trees, a blazing glory in the autumn, are close enough to touch, their streams, except for occasional rapmages, are friendly, the kind you have to wade in. The reticence they own is not proud, but humble.

The Reverend Herman G. McCoy of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church grew up in Clarksburg, in the Arkansas Ozarks, where he was born in November, 1906. He went to high school there and received his A.B. degree at its College of the Ozarks where the Presbyterian president was a minister.

He says that while he was a college student he "became convinced of the importance and validity of the Christian religion" and decided after his graduation to enter the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. In 1931 he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree there and won a fellowship in New Testament Greek to the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem. This enabled him to visit Palestine and he traveled that summer in Europe and the Near East. In the fall he returned to utilize the remainder of his fellowship at the University of Chicago where two years of general work and study of the New Testament earned him his Masters Degree.

Toward the end of the time he spent at the University of Chicago, he met Miss Dorothy Smiley, then a student of History of Literature of Religion at Northwestern University. On March 6, 1934 when Reverend McCoy had been pastor of the Altura Presbyterian Church in El Paso, Texas for several months, he and Miss Smiley were married there.

After three years of service in El Paso the McCoy's moved to Waxahachie, Texas where they remained for four and one half years. In 1940 they came to Arlington Heights. They like it here.

For the past three years Reverend McCoy has given much time and thought to his chairmanship of the Committee on Candidates in the district (Presbytery) for the ministry, missionary work and church work. This committee supervises the investigation of the candidates' applications, their licensure, their education and examinations, and presents them when they are ready for ordination by the Presbytery.

Mrs. McCoy says that her relief at his release from the arduous duties of this position was short lived as he was promptly made head of the Department of Personnel which, besides guiding the Committee on Candidates, is responsible for four other committees, one on credentials, one on the Roll of the Presbytery, one on Pensions and one on Necrology.

The McCoy's have a five year old son, Gordon, who soon may be tempted to boast about his daddy's track records. (He was college track team captain for two years and held the state conference record for the 220 yard dash for two years). Gordon's pride will undoubtedly mature as he begins to recognize the integrity and humility of spirit and the intelligence which make both his father and mother assets to their church and community.

Plan children's summer camps

It was L. P. Jacks who recommended vacations with a purpose. The educational leaders of the Methodist Church believe in this theory. So they have provided 13 camps for the Churches of Rock River Conference. The camps of immediate interest to the youth of Arlington Heights are four in number. First is the Junior Camp for the 5th and 6th graders. The camp will be held at Long Lake, Ingleside, Ill. Last year there were several persons from Arlington Heights at this camp. It is hoped that with the improved camp site a better camp will be held this year. Mrs. M. W. Prellberg is registrar and M. W. Prellberg is transportation chief. Date is July 23 to 29.

At Lake Geneva, Williams Bay, Wis., there will be three camps of interest to Christian youth. Beginning June 25 and continuing through July 2 will be the pre-high camp for youngsters in the 7th and 8th grades. Beginning July 2 and continuing through July 9 there will be a camp for the High School age group. The Hi-league camp is intended for the first three years of high school. Then on July 9 through 16 is the Young Peoples Camp for those of the Senior year in high school and beyond.

Each of these camps is staffed with the best available counselors. All of them have had experience in youth guidance and leadership and all of them know youth and understand its problems. For more detailed information call the Rev. Milo J. Vondracek, 99-M.

Visits here

1/c Musician Byron Baxter, Jr. of the United States Navy was in San Francisco recently. Mrs. Byron Baxter Jr. visited him there for three weeks when he left on a transport. She came to Arlington Heights to visit with his sister, Mrs. Fred Utterback and her family last week.

She was the guest at several family gatherings while she was here. On Friday Mrs. Kenneth Baxter, Mrs. B. A. Baxter and Mrs. Fred Utterback went to Chicago with her where she took a train to Lake Bluff to be with the Owen Baxters there overnight. She returned to her home in Birmingham, Alabama, Saturday.

The Corephelia Society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. John Sayers, 129 S. Mitchell, Monday evening.

Wants more good neighbor letters

Residents of the "city of good neighbors" have mailed only two letters to Mrs. Ken Miltstead (108 E. Euclid, Tel. 1454) for the "Breakfast at Sardi's" good neighbor contest which closes May 20. The winner of the contest will have the pleasure of seeing flowers sent to the person he describes.

"Breakfast at Sardi's" to be held on May 26 at the Methodist Meeting House is not to be on the air, but it will be a grand replica of the original program, with Mr. John Tyson of Chicago's WGN pinch hitting for the WLS master of ceremonies. The WLS program is sending an orchid to be presented to the oldest lady who attends.

Write that good neighbor letter this week and then you'll have time left to dream up your wacky millinery for the occasion.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mayer and granddaughter, Lois Jean, of Northfield, spent Tuesday evening celebrating the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Lester Dobbins, 2 S. Vail avenue, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Ruth Douglas entertained a group of Methodist women at a 1:30 dessert luncheon Tuesday.

Here's a preparation that keeps hands and skin soft, smooth and lovely in spite of work or weather. Rub in a dab of SOFSKIN before and after grimy or skin-drying tasks or sports. It's tops for a smooth, well-groomed skin.

Local persons to attend state educational meet

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights public schools, Miss Eleanor McBride, representative for next year, and Miss Martha Sapp, this year's representative to the Illinois Education Association Workers' Conference, Paul Vawter, legislative chairman of Arlington Heights PTA, and N. M. Lattot, president of the board of education, will attend the conference sponsored by the Lake Shore and Chicago Divisions of Illinois Education Association on Saturday, May 13, at the Sheraton Hotel in Chicago. The program will be presented in two parts, starting at 9:30 a. m. and adjourning at 1 p. m.

This conference is for individuals who are willing to serve as community workers in helping inform the public as to the needs of the schools of today. It is one of the means by which the Illinois Education Association is working toward realization of its platform, public relations program, legislation program and its resolutions, which are set forth in its 1944 pamphlet. The pamphlet states that the "Illinois Education Association believes that education is the inalienable right of every American, and that education is essential for the preservation and promotion of democratic ideals."

It says that "There are members to leadership in attaining the objectives of this covenant." The letter which accompanied the folder sent to the Herald office says that "It is generally acknowledged that education is one of the most powerful agencies which may be employed in the betterment of any community, state or nation." In the present struggle which civilization and freedom are waging against their totalitarian enemies, it is of utmost importance that the highest standards of education be maintained. Only by adequate financial support and by the united interest and action of all our people can this be accomplished in our nation.

The schools are facing a serious shortage of teachers. Many are leaving the profession for higher paying positions in industry, others are being called into the service, and the enrollment in the teachers' colleges is especially low. We need to strengthen the program now and urge you to lend your assistance.

Attends Kappa Delta luncheon

Mrs. C. H. Mills representing the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta, attended the spring luncheon of that sorority on Saturday, May 6, held in the Top of the Town restaurant on North Wabash avenue in Chicago. The luncheon, given under the auspices of the Chicago Area Kappa Delta executive board, had as a principal speaker La Mar Sheridan Warrick, a Kappa Delta and author of the book "Yesterday's Children" a best seller. She is also an instructor in contemporary thought at Northwestern University, her Alma Mater.

The luncheon was attended by about 150 Kappa Deltas, representing various Alumni groups and active chapters in and around Chicago.

Serve 102 at club luncheon

The May 3 Woman's Club Luncheon which marked the end of their club year was almost an all-out affair, with 102 members and guests very happy about the food, the program and the spring decorations.

Miss Coryl Shuman, Norwood Park speaker, wore a pink and white carnation corsage, a gift from the organization, as did each officer. These corsages were made by Mrs. Ernest Ogren who has a way with flowers. The speakers' table was decorated with pink and yellow daisies. The yellow daisies in the bouquet were there to compliment the club's new president, Mrs. Baldwin, whose first name is Daisy. Some of the small tables at which the luncheon was served were brightened by sweetpeas, others by forsythia.

4-H club group elects officers

The Alpha Theta group of the 4-H club met at the home of Shirley Dodge in Arlington Heights Monday evening. Adults present were the group leaders, Mrs. Wilbur K. Dodge and Mrs. A. Peterson and Mrs. Edward Fritz, head of the 4-H club organization here. The girls decided to meet each week beginning the first of June. Shirley Dodge was elected president, Laura Fritz vice president and Verdell Duenn, secretary-treasurer.

St. John mother and daughter banquet success

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet sponsored by the "Martha Circle" of the Women's Guild of St. John Evangelical Reformed church was a grand success. The only regret was that more mothers and daughters could not be accommodated in the church. Space limited the number attending to 150.

The clever and observant speech of Mrs. Lawrence W. Kester, guest speaker, was much enjoyed, and her audience after hearing her very many of them, moved to take inventory of themselves, asking as she did: "Does this year find me more tolerant, less critical? Am I more sensitive to beauty? What have I put into the treasure box of my mind that will prove valuable in the future? Have my horizons widened?" She suggested four pattern pieces for a beautiful girl growing into a beautiful mother: A disciplined mind, an understanding heart, a growing soul, and a steadfast spirit. On these four pillars of fine character she piled the body of her talk.

The women and their daughters were delighted with the serving done by men of the congregation. The program was based on the word "ship" and was carried through with much finesse and humor.

Thursday night bowlers dine with wives

The Thursday Night Bowling League entertained wives of its members at a dinner party Saturday evening held at the Rolling Green Country Club. Sixty-six of the members and their guests were present.

The retiring president, Mr. Geo. Schneberger, acted as master of ceremonies and presented the winning teams with trophies. Mr. Vernon Sturm accepted the first place trophy for the Webber Paint Company team, and Mr. Alex Askef of accepted the second place trophy for the Knaack Motor Company team. Other winning groups received cash awards.

At the election of officers Mr. Alex Askef was named the new president, Mr. Edward Haisler, secretary, and Mr. Robert Blackburn treasurer. Dancing to the music of the Wally Hermesdorf orchestra followed the dinner.

Officers for the coming year will be installed. They are: Mrs. Paul Collins, president; Martin H. Maher, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Lull, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, treasurer; Miss Marian Elliot, historian.

Something new and unusual will be the showing of a sound motion picture, "Pop Rings the Bell," dedicated to America's future, the youth of today.

The picture relates in dramatic story the progress of our public schools and emphasizes the dollars and cents return of the community for their investment in a sound educational program. Sponsored by the National School Service Institute, this sound moving picture is the first of its kind in the field of education.

Members and guests will be given a summary picture of how their investments in school taxes benefit each individual and each business and industry in the community. In keeping with modern progress, the advantages of good equipment and the necessity of a well trained teacher is projected as a "must" in today's schools. A unique feature of the film is the establishment of the fact that each individual in the community and each business and industry prospers in direct proportion to the educational level of those they serve.

The public is cordially invited. You cannot afford to miss this complete program. Plan now to be at the North School, Tuesday evening, May 16, at 8 o'clock.

The May meeting is usually the one at which annual reports are given. Because of the length of the entertainment, these will be omitted with the exception of the health and safety report and the one of the War Activities committee.

A son was born on April 28 at the Sherman hospital in Elgin to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wittenberg of Park Ridge. The mother is the former Winifred McElhose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McElhose of Arlington Heights. The baby, who has been named Robert Charles, weighed seven and one half pounds.

Bigger, experienced boys on farms this year

Two camps to supply more summer help

"Reports that we have noticed all over the state and here in Cook County is that a large number of young people are going out to farms to work this year," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "On the whole we believe that many of these young folks are going to be of a better quality than last year. In our boys camps we find that many of the better boys have already indicated that they would like to return to camp and bring someone with them.

"It appears that there will be two camps in North Cook County as last year. One will be the Boy Scout Camp at Fort Dearborn and the Jewish Boys Camp at Dam No. 2. Both Mr. Krejci and Mr. Komiker have indicated that boys who have indicated interest are a little older or at least larger than the boys they had last year, so they will be able to select a better grade of boy.

"A camp committee has been set up in North Cook County and the problems that we had were taken up with the committee, which consisted of Louis Wettermann, Walter F. Sasse, Herbert Mueller, Henry Koch, Otto Jaacks, Fred Mahler, Arthur J. Keil, Herbert Seegers, Henry Eichholz and August Bestman. One was the slump period that usually comes after weeding is finished and harvest begins. The committee agreed that farmers using these boys should make a sort of a contract with the camp that they would regularly take a certain number of boys, or whom they have exclusive territory throughout the year and agree to give these boys enough work, which is about one-half time during the slump period so their board can be paid while in camp. The wages agreed upon were five cents an hour above last year. Also hours will be arranged to meet the convenience of farmers which will be one hour earlier to begin work during the harvest period.

"To date a number have indicated that they would like to hire these boys to have them definitely engaged to begin work immediately at vacation time, which is the 26th of June. Farmers wanting this help should see Elmer Steil, labor supervisor for the county, who may be reached at the Farm Bureau office at Arlington Heights or the Vegetable Growers office at Des Plaines. Both offices will be the labor office this summer.

Grade schools being contacted

"The additional service which we are going to render the vegetable growers in particular, is to organize work crews in the upper grades of the suburban schools in Cook County. Mr. Steil has already begun contacting the grade schools to get an enrollment of boys who will make up work crews. The growers can get in these suburban towns to work on their farms.

"May we suggest that growers wanting this help should indicate to Mr. Steil the help that they will need and most convenient suburban town to get this help.

General and dairy farm labor

"This is the most difficult problem we have because the general farmer does not work his help in crews and he cannot use boys. They require a more experienced or reliable type of help. Occasionally there are good men who for one reason or another report for farm work and they are being placed on farms as rapidly as we can get such men. However, there are not going to be enough to fill orders unless dairymen are willing to take some of the better boys that we have found working in camps this last year. Believe it or not, some of these Chicago boys, after they were on vegetable farms a while, were able to handle machinery and we would not hesitate to recommend such boys for general farms. We believe these youngsters hired at $35-$40 a month could be used profitably in the county."

Cannibalism in chicks

Cannibalism frequently appears in growing chicks before they are turned out on range and it is rather difficult to control.

Cannibalism will most likely show up in chicks exhibiting a lot of nervous temperament, in crowded flocks and in flocks infested with lice.

If cannibalism has reached the habit stage, it's a tough problem to solve. The first step is to put the first offender in a "concentration camp," from which there is no return. Step two is to tar the picked birds. Feeding whole oats has helped in some instances. Many poultrymen have divided off a small section of their mash feeder in which they keep a supply of whole oats. Feeding salt for bad outbreaks, one tablespoonful of ordinary salt to a gallon of water for about three and one-half days, is recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Another means of controlling pecking indoors is to darken the brooder house and sometimes windows should be painted red as a means of control.

New meat ration ruling may ease hog market glut

"The removal of all ration points on all meats, with the exception of beef steaks and roasts, will give some relief to the seriously congested hog markets," Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, said today.

"This OPA order will also restore a degree of confidence among farmers in the ability of government to meet in a practical way the solution of a serious problem," Smith said.

Association president pointed out that the Farm Bureau as early as last November urged that all ration points be taken off of pork, in order to bring about an effective demand for the greatly increased pork supplies and has continued to urge such action from time to time.

"It should be recognized," Smith said, "that the large supply of hogs coming to market since November, 1943, is the result of the government's appeal to farmers a year earlier for a greatly increased production of hogs.

"Farmers have long insisted that action should be taken to permit the excess pork supplies to flow to consumers rather than to glut the markets and overflow storage capacities. Such market gluts have resulted in losses to producers on all hogs not falling within the comparatively narrow weight limits covered by government price supports."

Referring to the current hog market situation, Smith said that the average prices of hogs on the terminal markets are the lowest in two years and that hogs outside of government weights of 200 to 270 pounds are being indefinitely discounted from $1.25 to $1.75 per hundred pounds. "Our organization is insisting that the minimum weight for government weight hogs be reduced to 189 pounds, for the dual purpose of stopping such serious losses to farmers and to bring about a somewhat lower average weight in the months ahead, as a means of conserving seriously needed corn supplies."

New highs made by Farm Bureau insurance groups

Illinois Farm Bureau members have reached a new high in building an insurance program for farm families, according to the first quarterly reports of 1944 just issued by officials of their three statewide insurance companies. The three companies are owned and controlled by 105,000 Illinois farmers who are members of the Illinois Agricultural Association and 97 county Farm Bureaus.

Country Life Insurance Company, with $5,198,000 of insurance written in the first three months of 1944 as compared with $5,600,000 for the corresponding period in 1943, had the best first quarter in its history, according to David C. Miehler, manager.

Insurance in force on April 1 amounted to $209,837,000, representing a gain of six million dollars for the first quarter. On Jan. 1, 1944, when the company started its 16th year of operation, it had 202 million dollars of life insurance in force.

Illinois Agricultural Mutual Insurance Company, also owned and controlled by Illinois Farm Bureau members, set a new record in first quarter business in 1944 with 6500 auto policies written as compared with 4500 in the first quarter of 1943, according to A. E. Richardson, manager. Total auto insurance policies in force on April 1, 1944, numbered 115,402 as compared with 103,052 a year ago.

Avoid disease, seek variety in cabbage plants

Since the early cabbages must be transplanted, it behooves the victory gardener to make arrangements for his plants several weeks before transplanting time. He should determine how many plants he will need, what variety he wants, and when he wants them. Since the disease known as cabbage yellows is almost universally present in our soils, choice of variety is limited to those which have been bred to resist this disease. These are called the resistant varieties.

A common error of home gardeners is to plant too many cabbages all of the same variety. This results in more heads maturing at a given time than can possibly be used, with later bursting and wasting of the unused heads. A much better plan would be to use some of the very early maturing Racine Market or Detroit Resistant, some of the later maturing Marion Market, and some of the flat-headed, heat-resisting Wisconsin All Season which mature in mid-summer and do not crack open. Some families want a few red cabbages for pickling, and some want a few heads of the mild-flavored Savoy cabbages. All this should be arranged in advance.

Cabbages are usually transplanted in mid-April to late April. Work up a good seedbed and mark the rows 24 to 30 inches apart. Set the plants 18 to 24 inches apart in the rows. Use a strong trowel to make the hole and set the plants one or two inches deeper than they were in the cold frame or field from which they came. Press the soil firmly about the roots to insure contact with soil moisture. It is best to transplant late in the afternoon or evening or on a dark day.

Cauliflower and Italian broccoli, although similar to cabbage, are much more difficult to grow. The novice would be well advised to master the production of cabbage before attempting to grow them.

Color Blindness Corrected

That color blindness is susceptible to correction is evidenced by recent studies involving the use of vitamins and eye training, reports the Better Vision Institute. In one group of 45 men rejected for military service because of inability to distinguish colors easily, after vitamins were added in substantial amounts to the diets of the men and their eyes given intensive training in color discrimination, 35 passed eye tests upon re-examination and were accepted in various branches of the military services. After six months the eyes of 35 men were found to have retained improved color perception.

Many VFW's are holdovers for this year's job

Holdovers from last year's high school training classes are cutting down the number of courses given for the training of nonfarm youth for work on farms, according to F. F. Gingrich, assistant state supervisor, Victory Farm Volunteers, Extension Service, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Survey of the VFW situation in Champaign County, which is typical of down-state counties and cities, tells the story. Last year there were 26 youths enrolled for training in farm labor in the class conducted at the Urbana High School. This year only one boy made application for enrollment in such a class at this school. The reason was that the 26 who took the course last year are going back to farm work this year, having had their training, and are already experienced hands.

University High School, Urbana, had a similar experience and found not enough applicants to justify giving the course. Champaign Senior High School had no classes.

Mr. Gingrich is elated over the success of the VFW and especially treasures a letter written by a youth who worked on a farm.

Among other things, the letter says: "There are a lot of funny things happening in the country. Every day you learn new things, but that kind of learning is so easy compared with books and school. Every boy should try it. But he should take it as an enlistment in the service of his country, and he should try his darndest to stick it out and make good. He'd have to in the army. And food is just as important as shells and guns, and I know how hungry a fellow can get. I wouldn't want to think any soldier was hungry because I was too lazy to help a farmer. I hope that next summer I can do more and better work and am sure grateful to you fellows who found a place for me. Thanks so much."

Several down-state high schools are conducting courses this year to train youth for farm work, but the greatest activity in this line is in the city of Chicago, where there are many boys with no farm background who want to work on farms this summer. The records show that 80 per cent of them made good in 1943.

HERD CLASSIFIED

Mrs. Herbert Mayer, Palatine, has recently had her herd inspected and classified for type, the Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces today. The inspection was conducted by C. I. Miller, Medina, Ohio, one of the seven officials appointed by the Association to do this work in the United States.

Among the animals classified in the Mayer herd, 3 were designated "very good"—the second highest score an animal can receive.

The type classification, combined with a production testing program, is used as a means of proving sires and locating outstanding brood cow families in an owner's herd.

Hard to equal '43 food record in '44 says IAA

Machinery, feed, labor key factors

With the shortage of farm equipment, feed and agricultural labor, it will be difficult to maintain 1944 agricultural production at the levels of 1943, in the opinion of the research department of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

As labor grows scarcer, the production of livestock, poultry, milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables will be cut most, according to the statement of the research department. The production of feed and feed crops requiring relatively small amounts of labor is not likely to be greatly reduced by a shortage of labor in 1944, but prolonged unfavorable weather conditions would cut the production of such crops severely, the report continued.

Shortage of labor or feed may force farmers to market large numbers of livestock during 1944 and 1945, it was pointed out. Such a movement would increase the supplies of meat available for civilian and military consumption. This would be a desirable situation if the sale of livestock coincides with the greatest need for meats. On the other hand, it would be a very unfortunate occurrence if a greater need for meats should develop at a later date, according to the IAA research department.

The report states that the production of primary agricultural products appears to have reached a peak in 1942. "It is true," the IAA research department states, "that government figures show that agricultural production in 1943 was slightly greater than in 1942." However, a large part of the so-called 1943 "production" was in reality sales of farm products produced in previous years. It represented sales of livestock, poultry and dairy products produced from feed raised in 1942 and previous years.

Must be careful before selling your farm land

"Many farmers are tempted to make a farm sale at high prices that are now being offered at the present time," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Before a farmer sells he should answer two questions. We believe, the first is, 'how much of the sale price will you have to pay as income tax?' and the second is, 'if you sell your farm what will you do with the money you receive from the sale of it?'"

"The man who has other sources of income and then happens to sell a piece of real estate at a large profit may find practically all profit he has made on the sale of real estate will be required in meeting his income tax payment. On the other hand, it is difficult at the present time to find investments that will net more than a 3 per cent return.

"It is well to remember, in a period when prices are advancing, investments made in things other than land may look attractive at the moment and may promise to go higher. On the other hand, if a reverse comes after the war is over, and prices drop, many other types of investments are apt to shrink more in value than farm land.

"Investments which appear to give quick profits may in a reversal of conditions give quick losses. Usually a man will do best to leave his money invested in the things, about which he knows most!"

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

Have you ever noticed how a word or the name of a person whom you haven't consciously thought of for a very long time, will suddenly be brought to your attention, and then, almost instantly pop up again, maybe several times, in succession? ... I haven't heard the great Danish tenor, Melchior, sing for many years, nor have I had time to think about him, and so, perhaps, regret my loss; but the very next day after receiving your letter describing your meeting with him, up he popped again!

It was when I took Davy down to Mrs. Haberkorn's for his music lesson ... I went out on her sun-porch to wait for him ... she has a comfortable couch there with a low table beside it laden with what in my now distant spinsterness, I was wont to refer to rather disdainfully, as "Women's Magazines" ... now don't start chuckling too soon ... I still don't find time at home for more than my weekly Time Magazine and my monthly Geographic ... but once

"Kiss and Tell" in second year

"Kiss and Tell" has now joined the list of Chicago's long-run shows. The George Abbott comedy, featuring Katharine Warren and Clay Cleburne, which has been one of the town's most popular attractions, started the second year of its stay at the Harris Theatre on May 10. Only "Life With Father" and "Good Night Ladies" have topped the record of "Kiss and Tell," and from all indications the latter play has a good chance of catching up with even these long-run champions. Certainly it will run through the summer months, and contribute gaiety to the entertainment of the thousands of visitors expected in Chicago during the warm weather.

Four hundred and seventy-four performances will have been given at the time of the anniversary date, according to the statistician or the Harris Theatre. Some 425,000 persons have attended the play, paying in close to a million dollars for their fun. The average weekly gross over the entire 52 is $16,112, which exceeds the average of both "Life With Father" and "Good Night Ladies" for the same period of their respective engagements.

The heart-warming story of adolescent Corliss Archer, who is a typical teen-ager, her harassed parents, the young lovers, and the friends and neighbors who appear in F. Hugh Herbert's hilarious comedy have made it a prime favorite with all theatre-goers, from the youngsters to their grandparents. Although the play has been running a year, it remains as fresh and funny as when it first opened, according to critical opinion.

It Happened Here

He is the earliest riser, tuning in at 4 a. m.; we wonder what alarm clock he uses and what necessity is laid upon him to be vocal at this hour, and who listens to reward his persistent efforts. What bright eyes are admiring him from some dark bush or tree? By now the whole bird chorus is in full swing; from all sides comes the clear, plaintive white throat's call; his song piercingly sweet may be heard above the cardinal's rich and jubilant whistle and the inspired outpourings of the brown thrasher; they are all outdoing themselves but the towhee gives only a few exquisite trills and the mourning dove plains softly. The buds on the syringa bush are green beads, so tight and round they are—you fully expect them to tinkle when the wind blows; musical bushes with rabbits and squirrels and birds playing the game; then comes a gentle shower, completing the witchery of buds into green raindrops. The rose-colored catkins from the big tree have begun to drop and some are snared in the bush, so now we have a May basket right at our back door. These catkins are very pretty when they first fall especially when displayed on the rain wet soil, a black background to show off their charms. The most nostalgic sign of spring was the man gathering dandelion greens on the vacant lot parkway; he slipped his dible under the plant, lifted it out and shaking the dirt from the roots, tucked the green rosette into his paper sack.

ever persuaded the other ... it would spoil all the fun ... When I turned to the cover to make a note of the issue so that I could tell you in this letter to please run out and buy it immediately, I found I was reading a year old book! ... it was April, 1943 ... Lackaday!

If there are a number of misspelled words in this letter, it is because "my greatest admirer and severest critic" is on Coast Guard duty tonight ... it's a bit lonely down here in the living room without Dave sitting over in his big chair reading a book, listening to the radio and talking to me all at the same time ... Bstelle and the children are upstairs asleep so I think I'll slip up too now ... With love to you all,

As always,

Eleanore. P. S.—That quotation, "My greatest admirer and severest critic" from the play, Merton of the Movies, makes me think of Glen Hunter, who starred in it here ... Remember? ... I wonder what's become of him ... I thought he was very good, didn't you?

Spring housecleaning time is here again. For the wise homemaker, this annual chore should have two purposes: cleaning the entire home for the sake of appearance, but keeping comfort and health in mind.

As with the person, the old saying applies to the home: "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Not only does a dirty, unkempt home make for uncomfortable living, but it is also much more likely to harbor disease germs than one which is kept neat and clean.

In addition to cleaning walls, floors, windows, carpets and drapes, there are several other things which should be done with spring housecleaning for the health and welfare of the family and the neighborhood. Among the most important are:

1. Have all rubbish removed from the cellar, back yard, attic and garage (even vacant lots adjoining the home) and donate usable material to the scrap drive.
2. Ventilate cupboards, the attic, if it is stuffy, and the basement, if it has accumulated dampness.
3. Have leaky roofs and plumbing, cracked walls, ceilings and windows repaired.
4. Report any stagnant pool which may be near the home to the proper authorities so that mosquitoes and other pests won't be attracted.

Throughout the year, it is best to keep soiled clothing, waiting to be washed, in one container where they will not be contacted by members of the family. Bedding should be aired periodically in the sunshine, regardless of season, as should every room in the house to allow fresh air and sunshine to keep the home clean and wholesome.

Garbage cans and waste pails should be as far removed from the kitchen and "livable" parts of the house as possible. They should have tight lids, be placed out of reach of children, and be cleaned with strong antiseptic solution regularly.

Mother's day service at St. Peters

St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, in co-operation with 4,000 Lutheran churches of the Missouri Synod, will celebrate Mother's Day by "mothering" her sons in the service. The congregation has sent out to its entire membership an interesting copy of the current Lutheran Witness Magazine, which gives details as to how the Lutheran Church is taking care of the spiritual needs of her boys in the far-flung fighting fronts.

The local congregation will receive a special Mother's Day offering for this work as her part in raising over $500,000 needed to carry out this work for the coming year. The pastor has chosen for his sermon topic for Mother's Day May 14th, "Mother Love." The general public is invited to attend this patriotic service.

The Northbrook Civic Association have planned a joint program with the George William Benjamin Post for Memorial Day on Sunday, May 28. They have also plans for decorating the village hall and are looking for a site for a playground for the west side of town.

Consider G.I. bill of rights in 'House'

Bill provides hospital, school, home, farm, business loans

The Senate has already passed and the House now has under consideration, a comprehensive bill endorsed by veterans organizations for affording various types of benefits for the veterans of the present war. This measure provides for an expanded hospital program, for education, for loans for the purchase or construction of homes, the purchase of farms or farm equipment, the purchase of a business or business equipment and supplies, the employment of veterans and the payment of readjustment allowances after the war is over if a job cannot be found. This measure is 45 pages in length. Its essential provisions are herein summarized.

It authorizes a $500,000,000 hospital program, provides for the use and exchange of hospital facilities between the Veterans Administration and the Army and Navy, permits the representatives of recognized veterans organizations to render aid to veterans on claims, keeps the veterans on the military or naval rolls in case of disability until his claim is ready to be filed, and affords a review of his record in case he was discharged or separated from the service in any way other than by honorable discharge.

Education
If the veteran served for six months or if he was wounded and discharged for service-incurred wounds or injuries before that time, he can attend an accredited school for a period of one year. He must attend sometime within two years after his discharge from the service and must complete the training within seven years of discharge if he attends school only part time. The Federal government will allow $500 for tuition, laboratory fees and other regular school costs plus $50 per month for living expenses plus $25 a month if he has any dependents. A loan not to exceed $1,000 in the aggregate may be obtained by making application therefor to the Veterans Administrator to buy or build a home. The funds can be used to pay taxes or assessments or to make alterations on a home previously purchased. No interest is charged the first year and thereafter the interest rate will be 3 per cent. The cost of the home must not exceed the reasonable appraised value and must bear a proper relationship to the veteran's income.

Farm Loans

The veteran can receive a loan not exceeding $1,000 to buy a farm or farm supplies, equipment, buildings or livestock but it must be used for bona fide farming by the veteran, must be necessary or useful for that purpose and he must have farming experience.

The veteran can obtain a $1,000 loan to buy a business, including land, buildings, supplies, equipment, etc.

Employment

To aid the veteran in finding a job, a Veterans Placement Board is created and established in the United States Employment Service. It shall have a representative in each state and the function of this board and its personnel shall be to register veterans, contact employers and to do those things necessary to find suitable employment for him.

If within a period of two years after the veteran has been mustered out, he cannot find a job and is able and willing to work, he would be entitled to a readjustment allowance for a period of not to exceed 52 weeks. This allowance could not begin until four weeks after his muster-out from the service. It would not be payable if he received an increased pension or subsistence allowances or after five years after hostilities ended. He must be unemployed and registered for a job. The allowance would amount to $15 per week plus an additional $5 for a dependent, $8 if there were two dependents and $10 if there were three dependents. Thus the total maximum amounts that might be

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

ONE more indication of the present trend to religious novels comes with the selection of Sholem Asch's "The Apostle," a novel based on the life of St. Paul, as a dividend of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

SOLOMON ASCH

This is the book which Pierre van Paassen recently called a "tour de force of the imagination perhaps unequalled in modern literature... an almost miraculous performance in itself over which is diffused a solemn and great beauty."

Saul of Tarsus, as the Apostle was first known, was by trade a weaver. On the road to Damascus, he saw a blinding vision, which converted him to Christianity. He wrote many of his great Epistles in a prison in Rome before he was beheaded as a heretic on the order of Nero. But he left his mark on the centuries to come. "He, more than any other," writes Mr. van Paassen, "must be considered the architect of that grandiose and divine cultural institution known as the Christian Church, which has molded the life and thought of half the civilized world."

Sholem Asch, who was born in Poland of poor parents and who obtained his American citizenship in 1920, has been recognized for some years as a master story-teller. His immensely popular "The Nazarene" was also a Book-of-the-Month Club choice. Before that there was his famous trilogy, "Three Cities," and his play, "The God of Vengeance," played first in Berlin, then in Paris, London and New York, which aroused wide controversy because of its strong realism and which brought him international success.

Ernie Pyle, in his book, "Ernie Pyle in England," says that he heard so many tales of freak bombings that he thought he could believe anything. Here's one, however, that even he had to take with a grain of salt. A gentle lady of culture and means was sitting in front of a fireplace on the ground floor of her home one evening. Her housemaid, having finished her work, was sitting in her little attic bedroom on the fourth floor. A bomb came through the roof, plunged through four successive stories and exploded in the basement. When it was all over the gentle lady was sitting in her maid's attic rocking-chair and the maid was sitting downstairs in front of the fireplace. Both were unhurt, of course.

Mr. Pyle heard this one in Scotland. It seems that one Scotsman was telling another about being in a movie theater when some German raiders came over. The manager, he said, stopped the film, went onto the stage, and announced, "The sirens have went." It was now time for the other Scotsman to laugh, but he didn't. He studied it over for a long time, then finally chuckled and said, "I suppose the joke of it was that the sirens hadn't went?"

paid would be $25 per week for a period of 52 weeks. This in brief is a summary of the benefits provided in the bill which has become commonly known as the "G. I." Bill.

Canteens

Taxpayers have a personal stake in the Jersey City Quartermaster Repair Sub-Depot, which is saving them approximately $1,500,000 a month through reclamation of army equipment and clothing. One of the newest items to be added to the reclamation list is the dented and battle-scarred canteen.

Millions of canteens which heretofore would have found a home on the metal junk pile now will be returned to active duty as a result of machinery developed by engineers of the American Can company. Only previous methods of reclaiming canteens was by hammering out the dents by hand.

The machines make ingenious use of the hydraulic pressure principle to salvage approximately 1,000 canteens a day. The first of the two machines fills the canteen with water, using ordinary city-system pressure up to 60 pounds to restore the canteen to its original shape so that it will fit into the mold of the second machine. In the latter, hydraulic pressure up to 30,000 pounds can be applied to remove all dents. These, with other operators that straighten the necks and reclaim the tops and chains, make the canteens look—and work—like new.

Barnyard

Through the Barn and Barnyard Equipment Industry Advisory Committee, WPB has been advised that despite some shortages in the available supply, 1944 production quotas of barn and barnyard equipment will be realized.

Long leaves

According to the News from Belgium, workers deported to Germany cannot obtain permission to come back home on leave until they have worked overtime a number of hours equal to the duration of their leave.

Salads

German radio reminded German housewives that vegetables are becoming more scarce and that they must prepare salads from "wild growing herbs." The speaker instructed the women to prepare salads from dandelion, endives, stinging nettle, watercress and daisy leaves.

Cameras Penetrating
Camouflaging, an art which depends on the use of color, suffered a major setback when the infrared camera was developed. Infrared light, which is not visible to the human eye, can be photographed on special film. Thus two objects which to the eye have the same color may photograph differently with the special film, due to different amounts of infrared received from them. This means that the camouflage artist cannot judge from the appearance of a color how it will look to the infrared camera.

Vegetables

Maytime is strawberry time on the Chicago produce markets, and shipments of this popular fruit have been increasing from southern growing districts during the past few days. Prices of berries have edged somewhat lower under new OPA ceilings. Homemakers will want to make preparations for canning and preserving strawberries sometime during the month. The lower prices on the outdoor grown rhubarb now coming into local stores make this a good item to can at the present time, especially as a pressure canner is not required. On the fruit counters, the most plentiful item is oranges, and prices are lowest on the Florida Valencia. Grapefruit and apples are other fairly good choices, with bananas, avocados, and pineapples available for occasional use.

With fairly liberal supplies of cabbage on hand at the vegetable stands, this item is one of the best vegetables homemakers can put on their marketing lists. Prices on cabbage have been declining this week. Asparagus supplies are rather light as the California shipments have dropped off, and shipments of Illinois grown asparagus are just getting under way. However, this tempting vegetable is a good one to add distinctiveness and appeal to spring menus. Green onions from Illinois and Missouri are now on hand for additional flavor in the relish dish—although radishes are still the best buy. There are good quantities of celery on hand, too.

Rutabagas remain an economical item. Some of the new crop Florida Acorn, Zucchini and white pattypan squashes are coming in, but prices are rather high and quantities are small. The new green corn coming from Texas is another tempting delicacy to be had right now. Homemakers on moderate cost budgets might well include generous servings of greens on menus—for collards, mustard, turnip tops, spinach, and sour grass are coming to market.

Point-free

Tomatoes, corn, asparagus, beets, leafy greens, spinach, blackeye peas, and garbanzo beans have been added to the point-free list of processed foods through June 30, the Office of Price Administration has announced. Points have been reduced on spaghetti sauce; soups, grape and tomato jams and preserves; apple, grape, mint and plum jellies; baker's jellies and fruit butters. Points have been increased on cranberries and cranberry sauce; tomato juice in large containers; canned or bottled dry varieties of beans (excluding soy, blackeye and garbanzo); tomato catsup and chili sauce; raspberry and strawberry jams & preserves. Reductions were made to move out last year's stocks before new supplies are available in great volume.

Jap rice

An indication that the Japanese on the occupied Netherlands East Indies Island of Sumatra are having food difficulties is seen in a recent dispatch from the Domei News Agency which said that about 22,000 acres in Sumatra, formerly devoted to rubber plantations, have now been converted into rice fields. Formerly, Sumatra imported the bulk of its rice from Java and elsewhere, according to the Official Netherlands News Agency.

New cars

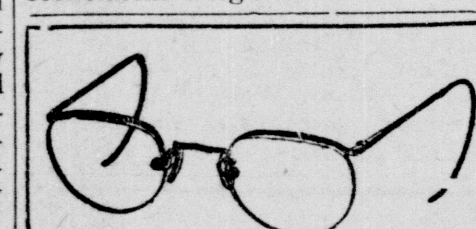

Civilians have been allocated 120,000,000 pounds of cheddar cheese for the quarter ending in June, WFA says... OPA announces that 10,000 new passenger automobiles and 12,000 new adults' bicycles will be available for eligible applicants in May... More than 41,000 wives and infants were given medical and hospital care in March under the emergency maternity and infant-care program, according to the Department of Labor... Dairy owners will find it easier to purchase water heaters as a result of a WPB action removing restrictions from sales of direct hand fired (solid fuel) hot water heaters of the following types—bucket-a-day stoves, dome-type water heaters, and service water and tank heaters... There was no net change in the average cost of living essentials between February 15 and March 15 because lower food prices balanced higher costs of spring clothing, household equipment, and services... Pot type oil burners may now be purchased by consumers without a preference rating, WPB says, but, in the case of new installations, authorization for delivery of fuel oil must be obtained from PAW before purchase can be made...

India aid

Although there has been no formal agreement between the United States and India, India will have given this country under Reciprocal Aid an estimated $243,750,000 in service and goods by the end of 1945. This aid includes supplying clothing, providing transportation, communication and maintenance facilities, repairing U. S. ships using Indian ports and distributing raw materials and available foodstuffs, the Government of India Information Services say.

Hogs

Ceiling prices on hogs weighing more than 240 pounds live weight will be reduced 75 cents per hundredweight on and after May 15, 1944, the OPA said. The action is designed to discourage the use of corn and other essential grains in bringing hogs up to heavy, uneconomical weights.

Jeeps

The automotive industry, America's largest, is living up to its peacetime reputation as a performer of "miracles" by continuing to skyrocket its armament output, which currently has hit the stupendous rate of $1,000,000 an hour. Latest announcement in a long series of wartime accomplishments is the report by Willys-Overland Motors that it has turned out its 200,000th "Jeep"—a vehicle that less than three years ago was still in the proving ground stage.

This total, according to Ward M. Canaday, president of the Toledo concern, dates from June, 1941, when the company's model was selected as "standard" by the Army. At the inception of the government contract, he points out, the firm's Jeep and its commercial vehicles—which utilize the same engine—were turned out on adjacent assembly lines. However, six weeks after Pearl Harbor all manufacturing facilities were converted 100 per cent to war work.

Rain matches

Things to come—A plastic-bonded plywood that is "flame-proof," reported by American Lumber & Treating company... Razors that you can buy! After two years of war work, American Safety Razor company expects to resume production shortly for civilians... Rainproof matches. Their tips are enclosed in a waterproof solution and will light in the heaviest of April showers.

Poultry

Consumers will pay an average of two-thirds of a cent more a pound for poultry over a period of one year under an OPA ruling providing for seasonal increases in prices of chickens and other fowl. The new prices will continue through June of this year, and from January through June of next year. From July through December of this year ceiling prices will revert to the unadjusted base prices as listed in Table A of the poultry regulation. Premiums to the producers, which will be passed on at all levels of distribution, range from a low of a half-cent a pound in January to a high of 2.2 cents a pound in May.

Butter

The ration point value of creamery butter has been reduced from 16 to 12 red points a pound, the OPA has announced. Margarine has been lowered from six to two points per pound. The new values are effective through June 3, 1944. This reduction was made possible by seasonally increased production.

England

Writing this week from England is Harold Vetter of Arlington Heights.

"My mail is a little late but I expect it will be that way from now on. It all depends on the connections it makes at the Port of Embarkation. Some letters I get in a week others take two or three weeks. Just keep the mail coming though and I will be happy.

"We had a good trip over. That is, it wasn't very rough and it was fairly warm. A couple of days it was real warm so we laid up on deck and got a good sun tan. The food wasn't too good and we were pretty crowded but we got over without incident. We came over on a transport.

"We are stationed in England now. It is beautiful country, but too damp. Spring here is the best season so I guess we hit it pretty lucky. We have had quite a bit of rain and also some nice warm weather.

"We are living in tents but it isn't too bad. In fact we have fixed them up so that they are almost as comfortable as a barracks. About the only things they lack is hot and cold running water. We are having electric lights put in tomorrow. We hardly need lights though because it stays light here until ten o'clock and will be light until eleven in a month or so. It was a little rough at first because we never had any maneuvers in the States.

"Their monetary system here baffled me at first but after a few card games I know it as well as I know ours. Their pennies are the size of our half dollars so they are hard on the pockets when we get five or ten of them. When we first got here we just held out a handful of coins and let the people take what they required so we usually ended up with a pocket full of pennies.

"Everything here is small compared to ours. The roads, cars, and houses are all about half the size of ours. This country has a network of narrow roads all thru it. About every three or four miles there is a small village with a few Pubs in it. The Pubs are very small compared to our taverns.

"The people here are very friendly, and always willing to help us foreigners out. All of the little kids yell "Got any gum chum" to every GI they see. The GIs have cooked up a snappy answer for that already. They reply, "Got a sister, mister?"

"We have movies on the field three nights a week. We have a lot better movies on the base than they have in town. Today we set up a public address system in our tent area so we are listening to good American records this evening. I haven't heard a radio for quite a while so the music really sounds good.

"That's about all for this time so I will close. Tell everybody to write and I will answer all of their letters promptly. I received the March 17 and 24 issues of the Herald and I read them both from cover to cover without getting off my bunk."

His address is Cpl. Harold J. Vetter, 36644982, APO 141, % PM New York, N. Y.

From the British Isles this week comes word of Bill Schoepke of Arlington Heights, our publication office service star No. 6.

"I find it's 'high' time I write and let you know the little change of my address. I received the Herald of March 24, and welcomed it more than ever before. Even though it is a month old, it's still news.

"I'm pretty well acquainted with the British money, although it seems queer at first. I'd say the American money system is much simpler. Also getting used to riding on the wrong side of the road and many other British customs, although the "lingo" is still rather hard to understand, but I'll catch on as time goes by. As for the beer, give me the American stuff.

"I hope you can manage to keep up the good work. I know the hardships, with help so scarce."

His address is Pfc. W. Schoepke, 36681732, APO 506, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Another short letter comes from Otto Jahrling of Arlington Heights.

"Everything is still O.K. here in Ole Blighty. The weather has been swell. I wouldn't be afraid to bet a lot of the fellows get spring fever. The birds are singing, flowers growing, and ball games. Speaking of ball games, I see the Browns took the Sox in two while the Cubs lost two to the Cards. Say, Cub fans, what's the excuse this year?

"Guess most of the players are in a bigger league. Glad to say that I'm in that same league. Looks like we're going to win the pennant and the world series, too."

His address is T/Sgt. O. A. Jahrling, 16098451, APO 557, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

New Guinea

From New Guinea comes word of Edward "Moose" Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"It's raining again tonight. It seems as if it always rains at night here, and gets real warm in the day. Sounds like better weather than you've been having at home, at any rate.

"By the time I get home there won't be any more of the fellows left to say hello to. However, there should be plenty of girls, and they'll look plenty good to me after not seeing any girls for almost a year."

His address is Cpl. Edward R. Doyle, 36359354, APO 713, Unit—1, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

"I met Orville Bolte here. His squadron, 512, is right next to mine, 513. It's certainly great to see someone from your home town.

It's nice and warm here and I like my work. Hope I run into a few other fellows from home.

"I hope the Herald follows me immediately as I miss it greatly. It's like a letter from home to get the Herald and read of my pals in the service. Keep up the good work with Uncle Sam. It means a lot to us boys."

His address is Pfc. Roger H. Erber, VMF 513 9th MAW, Pollocksville field, New Bern, No. Carolina.

Private Frederick J. Harbecke, 22 Box 89, Bensenville, has arrived at the College Training Detachment at Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., for course of instruction lasting approximately five months prior to his appointment as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Forces Flying Training Command.

During this period he will take numerous academic courses, as well as elementary flying training. Upon completion of the course he will be classified as a navigator, pilot or bombardier and go on to schools of the Flying Command for training in these specialties.

So. Pacific

From another island in the South Pacific comes word of John DePue of Palatine.

"Have moved to another island since I last wrote. The old one was a barren isle, but this one is swell. It's real hilly, almost mountainous. Nothing is bare here with everything covered with green sod and trees. It's a beautiful place.

"I climbed up to a couple of high spots where I could see rather far. To the east was the ocean and a very large unused bay. Then all around were hills and this green pasture land covered with cattle and sheep. Boy, what a picture.

"We have a nice camp here. We live in tents and are surrounded with nice green grass with plenty of white stone walks from tent to tent. We do our own laundry and there are nice places for heating water, etc.

"The people here are mostly English which makes it swell, for we can talk to them. They are all very nice and seem to like the Americans.

"We have very good meals with all the butter we can eat, milk twice a day and ice cream twice a week. The milk we drink corresponds to coffee cream back home. Meat and butter is rationed to the civilians here, though the last time I was in town I had a swell steak for forty cents."

His address is Cpl. John DePue, 36622310, APO 43, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Home again after another sojourn in the South Pacific is Joseph Mayer of Arlington Heights. Joe has been in the navy eight years and is now an aviation chief machinist mate, helping to keep naval planes in the air. His latest stations have all been at land stations.

Joe didn't feel qualified to go into details of any of his experiences, but did say he was stationed south of the equator and west of the date line.

He is spending most of his 30 days leave at home, though may take a trip to New York to see his brother. He is scheduled to report back to the West Coast about May 30.

Washington D. C.

From Washington, D. C., comes word of Bob Jensen of Palatine.

"Am sending you my newest change of address, as I don't want to miss any of the issues of the Enterprise. Keep it coming."

"From what little I've seen of Washington so far, I believe I am going to like it here, for my next period of training. The city is so clean, and there are so many things to see. The city is full of parks and famous sites. I believe the stories of living conditions are overplayed, as it seems no worse than other large cities. We have been having very warm weather here, which, I understand, is typical Washington weather."

His address is Ensign Robert E. Jensen, O-V(S), USNR, 1228 Jefferson street, N. W., Washington (11), D. C.

So. Dakota

Home on furlough from Sioux Falls, South Dakota is Harold Stelling of Arlington Heights. S/Sgt. Stelling is a radio instructor at Sioux Falls, and has been stationed there two years.

He and his wife spent a few days in Arlington, and are spending this week with Mrs. Stelling's parents at New Athens, Illinois. They return to South Dakota Sunday.

Louisiana

Pvt. Hudson Holtje of Wheeling was one of the many students in the ASTP whose pilot training was cut off by discontinuation of the program in many schools. Hudson was receiving his pre-flight work at Birmingham Southern College. His group was moved to New Orleans and as yet he has not been allowed to reveal his next assignment.

Arizona

Another Wheeling would-be pilot whose training has been halted is Pvt. H. Douglas Bingham. He was fortunate to have been allowed to finish his pre-flight course at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky. He was transferred to Kingman Air Field, Arizona, where he is now in gunners school.

temporarily stationed at Camp Matthews, San Diego, California, Marine Corps rifle instruction camp, where he will receive part of his recruit training.

Writing from Santa Ana, California, this week is Verton Collignon of Arlington Heights.

"This being Sunday and as I have a few spare moments, I just thought I would drop you a line to let you know that I am now at Santa Ana Army Air Base waiting to go to pre-flight."

"While at Shaw Field, S. C., I noticed in the Service Men's pages quite a number of fellows from Arlington Heights and Palatine who are also stationed here and thought the best way to get in touch with them would be through the Herald as I imagine most of them receive it. LOK - POE - ASN Home on furlough

Harry Hotshot once said, "some of the people will remember all of the time, all of the people will remember some of the time, but not all of the people will remember all of the time."

Thus, again this week, With Uncle Sam is endeavoring to explain just where LOK is.

Joe Slipshod leaves Fort Dix, New Jersey, on a boat. Joe writes the paper. Joe doesn't know where he is, or where he's going. We don't know where he is or where he's going. His mother doesn't know where he is or where he's going.

No one knows where he is or where he's going. Except, Lord Only Knows.

Get it?

And then . . .

And then we often hear, "oh, you never have Shrdlu's correct address in the paper."

U. S. newspapers all abide by a self-inflicted censorship code. There are unspoken pages of rules and regulations to be followed, but the basic requirements are few.

"At no time are there to be mentioned names or numbers of units overseas. Use discretion in telling of time of crossings. And, absolutely no names of ships either at sea or in port for repairs. Such information is . . ."

Thus, overseas addresses as appear in the paper contain only rank, name, serial number, APO, and port of mail exit. Such addresses are theoretically not sufficient for the delivery of mail. But they are sufficient for others overseas to find out, through the APO, just where their friends are stationed. Many servicemen are able to look up their buddies through this system.

Tennessee

Home on furlough from Memphis, Tennessee, is Bill Grismer of Arlington Heights. Bill was scheduled to report back to camp May 8. He brought his wife with him, the couple celebrating their second anniversary May 3.

His address is M-Sgt. Wm. H. Grismer, 2103 Nelson, Memphis 4, Tennessee.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Saturday, all over Illinois, high school teams will be competing in district track meets for the chance to send boys to the state meet at Champaign the following week-end. We have heard a lot of criticisms of the state track setup in Illinois since we have been in this state.

Weaknesses in present track setup

The big suburban schools which usually produce the state winners complain about the number of boys who are allowed to go to the state meet, especially the large number of mediocre boys who are sent up to Champaign from weaker districts down state. This makes it necessary to run about three preliminaries in dashes and hurdles to narrow the field in the first day of the state meet.

Then there are the small upstate schools which have to compete on equal terms with the big suburbs in the district and see good boys fail to qualify for the state because they did not finish first or second in their events. They feel that more boys should get a chance to go to the state meet so there will be more of an incentive for small schools.

Competition too tough in this area

Both groups of schools are justified in not liking the way the districts and state meets are run. Schools the size of Libertyville, Lake Forest and Arlington Heights do not enter many boys in the districts because they know that only exceptional boys have a chance in competition with schools like New Trier, Evanston, Maine Township, Highland Park, etc., who have indoor track and always rank among the state leaders. Down state a school like Libertyville would be winning a team championship in a district and qualifying the entire squad for the state meet. Palatine is not entering the district meet. Barrington and Arlington Heights have no one who can win even a fifth place in the Evanston district this year.

Coaches discuss a new state plan

The Wheaton and Naperville coaches have an idea for a new state lineup which really appeals to us. They have been assured by the state office that if a workable plan is submitted for dividing the state into classes that it will be given serious consideration. We think the plan they discussed with us at the Oak Park Relays about a month ago is a real solution to the problem of unequal competition.

Propose Three Classes

The plan would divide the state into three classes, A, B and C. Just what the enrollment figures for these classes would be was a question they were not agreed upon. We would say above 1,000 enrollment for class A, 400-1,000 class B, and under 400 in class C. Their idea would be to hold districts over the state in all three classes on the first week-end in May. Then the following week-end hold three state meets, one in each class. The "A" class meet might be in the suburban area and the "B" and "C" class somewhere in central Illinois. This would determine the team championships in each class and bring forth five place winners in each event in each class. Then the following week, the time the present state meet is held, there would be a meet at Champaign in which those five place winners in each class in each event would battle it out for individual state championships. This last meet with its limited entries would be along the line of the Big Ten-Pacific Coast meet held annually at the close of the season.

Would increase interest in track

This plan would make for even competition all the way. It would cost the state a lot more for medals but just think of all the extra money that would go into the track fund at 50 cents a contestant with all the small schools starting out with their whole squads competing. We predict that such a plan would result in twice as many boys going into the state series eliminations and a real incentive to track would be the result all over the state. We know what a difference it made in our own Palatine Relays when we classified the teams into "A" and "B" divisions. The entry list just about doubled and interest in track increased in that proportion. The same would be true for the whole state under the plan mentioned above.

NE-NW schools should back this plan

It is very likely that a plan along these lines will be submitted at the state coaching clinic at the University of Illinois late in August. All schools of the Northeast and Northwest Conferences should actively support such a plan and help bring it to a vote. We feel certain that two-thirds of the track schools of the state would vote for it.

Lake Forest second at Proviso meet

Lake Forest made a great showing by winning second place in "B" class at the Proviso Relays last Friday night. "B" class at Proviso includes schools under 1000 enrollment. Downers Grove was the "B" winner. New Trier won "A" class by a fraction of a point over Oak Park.

The Northeast-Northwest Frosh-Soph meet will be held at Palatine this year. This will be the fourth year the meet has been held. The first two years it was held at Palatine. Last year it was held at Arlington. The Arlington track is

Cards lose to Leyden track squad, 81-31

Arlington's trackmen lost at Leyden last week, Tuesday, 81 to 31. The Leyden squad grabbed two slams in the discus and shot and three 1-2's in the pole vault, 100 yard dash and 220 yard run. Cardinals' strength was displayed in the high jump where they garnered a first and tie for second.

Arlington took but two firsts, both of them won by Miller, in the high jump and high hurdles. W. Williams ranked second in the losers with 6 points, seconds in the 440 and 880.

Jagade was a team by himself for the winners as he scored 24 1/2 points with firsts in everything he attempted, low hurdles, 100, 220, 440 and shot. He also was a member of the winning 880 relay team. Jones ranked second with 16 points.

not in condition for the meet this year. The date of the meet is still in doubt. Usually it has been held on the Tuesday following the Conference meets. This year that would be Memorial Day. There seems to be some objection to that date so the meet may be held on Monday, May 29. Personally, we think Memorial Day is an ideal day for a big meet. A definite date will be set by next week. Last year Crystal Lake won the meet with Libertyville second and Palatine and Antioch tied for third. Crystal Lake's powerful team will again be the favorite.

Hero of the Week
From what we hear Robinson of Arlington Heights is the real hero of the week in these parts. Pitching a no hit game against Niles he allowed only one man to reach first base, coming close to a perfect game. Harry Robinson, who is so interested in sports, should be a mighty proud father right now with a son turning in such a pitching feat. Niles is no weakling either, losing only 2-1 to New Trier a few days earlier.

Barrington tops in NW Frosh-Soph track

From all indications Coach Paul Clark has track on the comeback trail at Barrington. His frosh-soph team expects to be undefeated this year. In Bennett and Menotti Barrington has a pair of very good sprinters. Buell is a good 880 man and Flock can broad jump and run the quarter with good marks. There are a number of other lads on Clark's big squad who are developing rapidly. This year for the first time Barrington boys who play baseball are also competing in track. Both teams are stronger as a result. Coach Graham of the baseball team encourages his baseball men to compete in track and requires that all his basketball boys get the conditioning that the sport offers.

Robinson in no-hitter as Cards beat Niles

Local nine wins tilt, 3-0

By EARLE JOYNER

Last Friday afternoon Jim Robinson realized every pitcher's ambition and pitched a no-hit game against Niles, winning 3-0. Jim only faced 22 batters, issued one walk and struck out 10. This was Jim's first start of the current season. Some very efficient playing by the rest of the Arlington boys kept Niles from getting more than one man to first base. In the fourth inning Dick Bokelman ran far into right field to catch Anderson's Texas leaguer over his shoulder, and on two occasions Bob Kohler, who has just signed up with the Navy, made good pickups of low throws from the infield. The Cards played errorless ball.

Jack Thompson again came through with another of his triples to get the Cards' scoring under way in the second inning. Ehard was hit by a pitched ball to open the inning and scooted home on Thompson's blow. Unfortunately the next three batters struck out and Jack was left stranded on third.

The other two runs came in the 5th. Bokelman lifted a fly to the first baseman for the first out. Gaare drove a hit to left and promptly advanced to second when the Niles' boys became a little mixed up in getting the ball back to their pitcher. Dahlstrom then lifted a fly to Anderson between first and second producing the second out. W. Griffith hit safely, moving Gaare to third. On the first pitch to Robinson Griffith stole second. Robinson eventually worked Dinelli for a walk, filling the bases. Bob Kohler brought both Gaare and Robinson home with his hit to right. Ehard ended the rally by the strikeout method.

The Cards were not too robust with their hitting against the left-handed Dinelli, collecting only five safeties. Thompson's triple and singles by Griffith, Kohler, Gaare and Dahlstrom.

Heights man wins archery contest

Sunday, May 7, Lombard Archery Club held their annual spring field shoot at the Kohleys of "Ad-bell Farm" near Lisle, Ill. About forty-three archers, representing ten surrounding towns, attended the shoot. Results of the shoot were:

Men—1st, Henry Collignon, Arlington Heights, 347 points; 2nd, Sam Gates, Naperville, 318 points; 3rd, Chris Staats, Downers Grove, 318 points.
Women—1st, Ruby MacArthur, Downers Grove, 130 points; 2nd, Miss Oetjen, Hinsdale, 79 points; 3rd, Mrs. Beuerman, Glen Ellyn, 62 points.

All targets were set up and scored according to the National Field Archery association rules and regulations. The Lombard Archery Club is planning following shoots for the first Sunday of each succeeding month. They extend an invitation to all archers who would like to participate.

A field archer is one who uses a bow to shoot arrows at animate or inanimate objects, at unknown, unannounced and not predetermined distances. It is distinguished from target archery where the shooting is done at fixed, announced, or known distances.

Target archers in America have been organized for nearly a hundred years. Some of their tournaments, rules, rounds, etc., go back a thousand years in English history. Until recently field archery was unorganized, although field archery is as old as the first bow drawn tens of thousands of years ago in defense or in the hunt by our primitive ancestors. Today there are thousands of archers and their number is rapidly increasing, who never shoot a target round or in a target tournament. They just shoot for the fun of it in their back yards or in the fields at tin cans, stumps, or nothing in particular. Others have taken up the bow in the sport of hunting for small and large game.

If you are interested in field archery contact the Illinois representative of the National Field Archery association, Henry Collignon, 722 No. Pine avenue, Arlington Heights.

Palatine edges Broncs, 66-57

By JACK GOODWIN

Palatine edged out Barrington, 66-57, in a dual meet held on Ost Field last Thursday. The outcome of the meet was in doubt until the final event, the 880 yard relay. Barrington at the time was trailing by four points and needed to win the relay to gain a one point margin over the Pirates. However, a quartet of Meyers, Goodwin, Kastning and Herr beat the Bronchos by ten yards and won the meet.

Two marks were outstanding as far as Palatine was concerned. Dick Howes put the shot 39' 8" and Hilliard Meyers got off a leap of 18' 10 1/2" in the broad jump. These two marks strengthened Palatine's chances in the coming conference meet.

Herr and Goodwin each won two individual firsts in addition to the relay to lead the Pirates in scoring. Cold weather again hampered the contestants. Herr tripped over the last hurdle in the lows and failed to place.

Summary:

High hurdles: won by Herr P. Wilhoff B 2nd. Low hurdles: won by Herr P. Wilhoff B 2nd. Time 1:11.1.
880 yd. relay: won by Goodwin P. Schroeder B 2nd. Buell B 3rd. Time 2:15.6.

Lake Forest High School won the Lake county track championship by scoring 45 1/2 points in the 19th annual meet held Tuesday on the winner's field.

Libertyville was second with 42 1/2 points and Highland Park was third with 42 1/5 points. Defending Champion Waukegan placed fourth with 39 3/5 points.

Two new records were set and one equaled. Bob Corbett of Waukegan won the 220 yard dash in 22 seconds to clip six-tenths of a second off the old mark which was made by William Bromsted of Highland Park in 1939.

In the discus throw, Eugene Sage of Lake Forest bettered the old mark by 5 feet 3 inches. The old record of 122 feet was established in 1942 by Ying Jones of Highland Park.

The 200 yard low hurdles mark of 22.9, set by Norman Durnett of Highland Park in 1939, was tied by Frank Musser of Highland Park.

MORTON GROVE

The estate of the late George W. Wellner, late of 745 Lee St., Des Plaines, who died in Morton Grove March 2 leaving a $2,000 estate, has been opened in Probate court. His estate is all real estate. His heirs are his widow, Helen, three sons and two daughters. The sons, Raymond, LeRoy and George, are all in the army and the daughters, Marion and Patricia, are at home.

MT. PROSPECT

The will of the late Louis K. Schroll, who died in Chicago March 10, leaving a $14,000 estate, divides his estate between his sister, Frieda Burss, 651 Des Plaines avenue, Des Plaines, and his grandnephew, David and Richard Wetzel, 414 Lonquist avenue, Mt. Prospect.

SUE SKOKIE

The Joslyn Investment corporation and others have filed suit in Superior court against the village of Skokie asking an accounting of certain special assessment bonds owned by them and payment of money found to be due them.

SEPARATE

Mrs. Adele Plotter has sued Leonard R. Plotter in Superior court for separate maintenance. They were married in Arlington Heights in 1935. They are living at 16 Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

With the end of another school year just around the corner, the Arlington baseball and track squads enter their last two weeks of competition.

Coach Joyner's baseball squad while undefeated in three games, is still somewhat of a question mark. Strong in pitching and fielding, its strength at bat is still an unknown quantity. Last Friday the Cards whipped Niles 3-0, behind the no hit, no run pitching of junior Jim Robinson. In doing so, they scored their second conference win in as many starts, but only managed to get five hits. On the other hand, Leyden beat Niles by a score of 10 to 2. With two games scheduled this week, the Arlington-Leyden series should determine the conference championship (weather permitting). Good luck, Cards! Let's bring home the bacon!

though he finished out of the money, his time was 5:28. Not bad, eh?

Last Friday in the Arlington-Leyden baseball game, an Arlington junior joined the school's hall of fame by pitching a no-hit, no-run game. Jim Robinson is quiet, modest, and an all-around athlete. Congratulations, Jim; let's see you do it again!

Jack Thompson has been handicapped this year and has not been able to play either football or basketball. At the present time, however, Jack is the long range batter on the school nine and bats in the No. 5, or clean-up spot. Our reports tell us that Jack will play three sports next season. Go to it, Jack!

PLAY DAY

The annual 8th grade Playday will be held at the high school this Thursday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Some interesting events are scheduled, followed by refreshments and the presentation of awards in the cafeteria. This event will be under the direction of A. H. Seidler, athletic director at the high school, and Miss Nedra Ott, girls' gym teacher.

Home on 30 days leave is Kenneth (Jimmy) Schramm of Mt. Prospect. Jim hasn't been home since January of 1942, and has seen plenty, even "too much" of the South Pacific in that time.

Pfc. Schramm first reported to "boot camp" at San Diego, California, in January of '42. March 9 of that year he went overseas and for the next 18 months was stationed in the Samoan Islands. He was then transferred to Tarawa in the Gilberts as a member of an anti-aircraft gun group.

"Most of the South Pacific islands are no place for a white man. The rain in most places comes in torrents and isn't at all healthy. On one island, alone, they averaged 100 inches of rainfall per year. A white man in that territory can stand just so much, and then has got to leave."

"Never saw a white girl in the entire 26 months I was out of the country, not even any nurses. Pharmacists mates, of course, assist in first aid, and work with the doctors. Those doctors are the best in the world. The operations they performed and the work they did was wonderful."

"One fellow had fallen from the crow's nest to the deck of the ship, pushing his legs up into his body. The doc, using tracks which he turned every day, pulled those legs back out again in four months time. That man is now able to walk about on crutches."

"When we moved into Tarawa, the island had just been taken. There was a lot of cleaning up to be done, and everyone pitched in. All installations there had been blown off the map. The bodies and carnage that had to be cleaned up was terrific. It's better left unsaid."

"Never had any USO shows out there, but did see Eleanor Roosevelt on her South Pacific jaunt of last fall. She was riding in the back of a general's jeep when I saw her."

"Natives out there were friendly and easy to get along with. As

California

From Camp Beale, California, comes word of John Tudyman of Palatine.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Legion Auxiliary for sending me the Palatine Enterprise. It's one of the best things fellows can get, next to a furlough home, which I have yet to enjoy. I especially like With Uncle Sam. "The Army's OK and they treat me swell, but I wish it was all over. But who doesn't?"

His address is Pvt. John Tudyman, 753rd FA Bn, Camp Beale, Calif.

Colorado

Pvt. Kenneth M. Lloyd, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Lloyd, reside at 1111 N. Dunton avenue, Arlington Heights, has recently been graduated from Armament School at Buckley Field, Colo.

Pvt. Lloyd entered active service July 5, 1943, and prior to his entrance into the Army was a student, and was interested in amateur photography.

soon as you learned their customs you were able to get along swell with them. Many of them would do laundry for the men and would be paid in things from the commissary."

Jim is scheduled to leave Friday for Florida, where he will spend some time visiting relatives. He has applied for return to duty as soon as his 30 days are up. "If anyone had told me three months ago I'd be standing on my front porch today, I would have said they were crazy," said Jim.

Don Hooson of Palatine is stationed in San Antonio, Texas, and is now in pre-flight training.

"We have finally done the one thing we've all been waiting for—that is to go up in the pressure chamber. We went up to 28,000 feet, going up at almost 4000 feet a minute and coming down just as fast."

"You'd really be surprised at the funny feeling and the funny things that happen when you're up that high. For instance, your fingertips instead of being pink are a very pretty purple and while we were up there they told us to remove our oxygen masks and try to whistle, and not even a peep came out of any one of the fifteen of us."

He tells of the balance test and ends by saying, "Next week we go up again. This time we'll go up to 38,000 feet and I'll let you know about that trip later, I hope."

His address is A-S D. Hooson, Sq 110 Ft F, AAFCC SAACC, San Antonio, Texas.

From Camp Bowie, Texas, comes word of Ed Bublitz of Arlington Heights.

"I guess all of you know of my whereabouts—I certainly do. After 11 months of goldbricking I've returned once again to soldiering."

"I understand that Laddie Podzimek (Arlington) took the final and fatal step. Too bad. With his looks and money, and my ideas, we could have gone places. I'm waiting for an invitation to a thick steak dinner, but haven't seen him yet at Bowie."

His address is Pvt. Ed Bublitz, Hq. Btry, 669th FA Bn, Camp Bowie, Texas.

Douglas doings
Plans are rapidly getting under way for "Douglas-Daze" first annual all-Douglas Chicago variety show which will be presented in the Lane Tech high school auditorium June 3 and 4.
High-lighting preliminary cast meetings is the invitation issued by the Executive Committee to all employees to come out—non-talented as well as talented. Because of spots in group singing and dancing, many persons who have always wanted to get into the limelight are being given that opportunity.
An array of pros have volunteered to take part in the production. Under the direction of Fran Steele, who has a record of 247 previous amateur shows that functioned under his guidance; Chuck Cavallo, who will be musical director; dance director Mona Lee Cote; and technical director Red Behrens, sub-committees are being formed to insure the success of this musical.

Recognizing transportation and housing problems of primary importance to new employees at the Chicago plant of Douglas Aircraft company, steps have been taken to solve these difficulties before the new start begins work.
Booths supplying all the necessary information were set up in various sections of the plant to enable each worker to present his or her problem during a rest or lunch period. Because the employees do not have to take time off from work to solve these problems, many man hours so vital to the increased production schedules of the C-54 Skymasters for current invasion plans will be saved.

To further establish the relationship between "brain and brawn," ten employees of Douglas Chicago's plant received Certificates of Acknowledgment from the War Production Drive headquarters for plant suggestions which will save time and material, and improve and increase production.
Making use of the opportunity to submit ideas which occur to them on the job, these ten employees sent their ideas to the plant suggestion department, where they were accepted. Forwarding them to the home office at Santa Monica, which in turn sent them to the WPD, the suggestions were selected from those submitted by all plants.

Night Blindness
More than 2,000 years ago the Greek philosopher, Aristotle, called attention to night blindness and advised that sometimes it could be corrected by eating liver, which we now know is rich in vitamin A.

Old-age insurance is not charity
"Some people who do not understand that old-age and survivors insurance benefits are paid as an insurance right hesitate to claim their insurance," said Mr. Williamson, manager of the Social Security Board field office at 1045 Lawrence avenue, Chicago.
Mr. Williamson said that recently the telephone rang at the Social Security Board field office and a lady's voice asked if he would send a representative to her home to take claims from the woman and her husband.
On further questioning, it was ascertained the people were not incapacitated. Physically, they were able to visit the Social Security Board office, but the wife hesitated because she feared someone would learn that they had filed a claim. She said she did not want her friends and neighbors to think that "they were taking charity."
"We explained to her," Mr. Williamson said, "that we ordinarily call at homes to take claims only when the claimants are unable to call at the office." After a brief conversation she agreed to come the following morning. The husband said that social security was one of the few things about which he and his wife had disagreed. He had wanted to file his claim ever since he had retired, but his wife considered it charity and something that would be very embarrassing.

When asked if she would be embarrassed by accepting money due on a paid-up insurance policy, she said she would not.
"After considerable discussion and several intelligent questions," Mr. Williamson said, "the lady remarked, 'Why that's not charity, that's insurance. I don't care who knows we have filed these claims. I am going to tell all my friends myself.'"
"Survivors of all deceased persons, and also all persons who have been employed and who reach age 65," Mr. Williamson said, "should contact the nearest Social Security Board field office and inquire concerning benefits that may be payable to them."

Ancient Spectacle Makers
King Charles I of England in 1628 granted a charter to the guild of spectacle makers. The charter granted wide powers to a master, two wardens and eight assistants for the maintenance of standards of service to the public.

England

The school bell still rings for thousands of soldiers in the Air Force, calling them to technical training classes conducted by the Air Service Command. Sgt. Richard O. Stier of 625 So. Highland, Arlington Heights, was one of those especially selected by his commanding officer to attend RAF Tech. School in England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stier of 625 So. Highland, Arlington Heights.

Before joining the Army in 1942, Sgt. Stier was employed as a clerk by Commonwealth Edison of Chicago.

The technical training of Air Force personnel rests on the broad shoulders of Air Service Command. At present it operates in this theater many schools of various types, giving courses in specialized training designed to equip soldiers to perform the myriads of jobs required by the Air Forces.

It's papa Sgt. Robert McDougall of Arlington Heights, who is stationed in England. A baby girl, Phyllis Ann, was born Saturday evening to his wife, the former Alice Burk of Arlington, at Elmhurst hospital. The child is the great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. McDougall of Arlington.

Sgt. McDougall has been in service three years. His address is Sgt. Robert McDougall, 16003439, APO 403, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Just arrived in England is Chaplain E. I. Stevens of Mt. Prospect. They are still living in tents, according to the letter received. His new address is Chap. (Capt.) Edwin L. Stevens, 0-507902, 158th Gen'l Hosp., APO 508, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

New Jersey

Scheduled to graduate this Saturday from radio school at Atlantic City, New Jersey, is August Ansted of Arlington Heights. He is slated to graduate this Saturday and earn his petty officer stripes.

August hopes to get a leave immediately after in order to see his folks at home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ansted.

China

From China comes word of Charles Bennett of Arlington Heights.

"Wally Kehe of the old home town moved away before I could see him so I suppose this party will be over before I see him again. We have some hope of going home after two years. I have a cousin who just went home after two years here, so there's still hope for me."

"Am feeling fine. Have been able to get along with no illness so far and am hoping for the future."

His address is Sgt. Charles L. Bennett, 14120359, APO 627, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Florida

From Key West, Florida, comes word of Kenneth Cole of Palatine.

"Would like to take this opportunity to thank the Legion Auxiliary for their part in sending us the Palatine Enterprise. I'm sure they all appreciate it as much as I do."

"Our ship has been under repairs for some time, so I have been living a life of ease. We should be back to sea, though, in a week or so, and I'll get back into the groove once more."

His present address is Kenneth R. Cole, SC2/c, USCG Sect. Base, 65004, Box 100, Key West, Florida.

Cubs, Sox scores here next week

Next week Paddock Publications will inaugurate a new feature of the servicemen's pages, the baseball scores of Chicago Cubs and Sox. It won't hold much interest to the 7,500 civilian families each week reading the paper. It probably won't provide much reading for the 327 servicemen getting the paper within this country.

But for the 723 local men serving overseas and regularly receiving Paddock Publications, it should be news. Many of the boys requested it and, beginning next week, they're going to get it.

Aleutians

Now back in the Aleutians is Wallace Papajesi of Palatine.

"I think it is about time that I wrote you a few lines to let you know of the change in my address. I gave you one change of address while I was home on furlough. But when I got back it changed again so I'll give you the correct one."

"I sure had a grand time while I was home for the thirty days, and it was the first Christmas and New Year's I had at home in three years so you see I really enjoyed it that much more. I will say things have changed a great deal around there. I also got married while I was there which made the furlough that much more complete."

"So far I am in the best of health and everything is going along O.K. The weather here is as per usual raining every day and that is what it's doing today."

"I am still receiving the Enterprise. I have been able to keep up with it. I have been able to keep up with all the news around there."

His address is Pfc. Wallace Papajesi, A.S.N. 36004031, APO 939, % PM, Seattle, Washington.

Another letter from the Aleutians is from Harold Mayer of Palatine.

"Just a short note to let you know I received the first four issues of the Palatine Enterprise and was surprised to get them. I especially want to thank the Legion Auxiliary, responsible for my receiving the papers. I enjoyed them and am looking forward to getting them right along."

"I notice most of the boys have been taken into the service. Say hello to all of my friends wherever they may be."

His address is Pvt. Harold Mayer, 36044632, APO 729, c/o PM, Seattle, Washington.

From the Aleutians comes a short note from Paul Hoeft of Arlington Heights.

"Just a note to let you know I'm still alive and kicking. Nothing new going on here. Hope everyone at home is still OK. Keep the Herald coming."

His address is Pfc. Paul Hoeft, 36359478, APO 726, c/o PM, Seattle, Wash.

Italy

Another letter reaching us this week is from E. O. Elbert of Itasca, who is stationed on the Anzio beachhead.

"You've heard from other fellows from this theater, so I can join them in saying this is no picnic. The closest picnic-resemblance would be a Fourth of July picnic—red bursts, white bursts and just plain bursts in the air. No, I don't believe any civilian could realize what a war is by just reading about it or listening to the broadcasts."

"I don't claim to have the toughest job but can assure you no job on this beachhead is exactly a snap. Perhaps even more than you, we over here are anxiously awaiting the news of the munitalked of second front. Watching and waiting for an opening, that's the sport (?) of war. Big trouble is that it gets monotonous. But it's always better to be patient, rather than a patient."

"Keep the Register coming for I always anticipate reading With Uncle Sam with pleasure."

His address is Pfc. E. O. Elbert, 36345923, APO 306, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

From Italy comes word of H. Thompson of Palatine.

"Still in sunny Italy and it's really hot. I mean both ways. It's still the same old stuff: they drop a few shells on us, and we throw a few on them. Just a lot of noise."

"I'm getting used to living in a dugout, along with the flies and rats. I don't see or hear from any of the boys, but I guess this is a big country."

"There are four Red Cross donut girls here, and it's really a treat to see them. How about a few letters from some of the boys lucky enough to still be home?"

His address is Pfc. H. Thompson, 36712146, APO 88, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Indiana

Sgt. George Lavinge of East Maine spent the past week-end visiting his wife and six-week-old son, George, and his parents, the Edward Lavings of Florence avenue. Sgt. Lavinge, who is temporarily stationed at Camp Atterbury, Ind., considers himself pretty fortunate to be this close to home so that he can visit his family on a week-end pass.

Arkansas

Renewing his subscription to the Herald is Frank Stanek of Arlington Heights. His address is Pfc. Frank J. Stanek, MP Sec., Hq. Det., 1861 Unit, Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas.

Address change?

Keep that paper going to your man in service.

Bougainville

Sgt. Herman Tews of Roselle has been in action with the infantry on Bougainville in the southwest Pacific.

He was awarded the Combat Infantryman badge and the Good Conduct ribbon. Very recently he gained a promotion from corporal to that of sergeant.

Herman has been overseas since September, 1942, and has been stationed on Bougainville island.

Louisiana

From Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, comes word of Max Nisle of Elk Grove.

"Since I am transferring around quite a bit, thought I better tell you of my new station. The last stop for me was Fort Sam Houston, Texas. It was the best camp I've been in. I think that any serviceman that has been stationed there will say the same thing. I hated to leave there, although we had one heavy hailstorm there with the stones two inches thick."

"I am now at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, with the engineers, utilities division. We are learning to be skilled in many different subjects of warfare. I'm getting along pretty good and feel fine. The weather is warm here and when it rains, it just about washes away the buildings."

"Glad to see the folks at home are doing all they can to help win the war. When we march through the streets of Berlin, then will be the time for celebrating, not before. Now is the time to pray for every man to come home safe and sound."

His new address is Pvt. Max Nisle, 1671 EUO, 2nd Prov. Tng. Regt., Camp Claiborne, La.

Texas

Now home on leave after completing basic training as an aviation cadet at Glenview air base is Jim Millay of Arlington Heights. Jim is scheduled to report to Glenview May 18, and from there he will be sent to Corpus Christi, Texas.

Great Lakes

When Harry Jaegermann, MM 1/c, of Wheeling, was ordered to leave Camp Peary, Virginia, his wife, Mildred, and young daughter began their homeward trek. They accompanied another serviceman's wife to Indianapolis where they planned to spend some time with a relative.

Upon their arrival in Indianapolis a telegram came to tell them that Harry had beat them home. He is stationed at Great Lakes at the present, and the family visit in Indianapolis was cut short.

Clarence M. Allison, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allison, R. F. D. No. 1, Mt. Prospect, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

His "boot" training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill and general naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service school or to immediate active duty at sea.

Joseph D. Smart, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smart, 312 Dwyer street, Arlington Heights, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

Ralph Klotz of Golf road, East Maine, who recently enlisted in the Navy, left for training on May 2. He is still at Great Lakes.

Scott Field

Changing his address at Scott Field, Illinois, is James Callow of Elmhurst.

"Don't want to miss that DuPage Register, so please send it to my new address. I certainly like that service page."

His address is Pfc. James J. Callow, Bks. 841, Sect. 1, 3505 AAF Base Unit, Scott Field, Ill.

India

From India comes word of Bernard Uliasz of Palatine.

"Just a line to let you know I began to receive the Palatine Enterprise about a week ago. I enjoy it very much and missed it for a long time. Please note the change of address."

"As my friends know, I am somewhere in India. I must be near Henry Hajek. I think I'll write him and see if we can get together."

"India is some country. The paper money has seven languages printed on it. There is a population of 400 million. Main language is Hindustani and I am picking it up slowly."

"We live in concrete-walled barracks with strong roofs, which are rather cool. Most of the natives live primitively and they do their hauling in two-wheeled carts. The food is good, considering."

"If anyone wishes to write me, will promise to answer any and all letters. Mail call is a mighty big thing way out here."

His address is Pvt. Bernard J. Uliasz, 36765068, APO 493, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Now in India is Walter Kramer of Mt. Prospect. His wife, Irene, has just heard from him, telling of his safe arrival.
